5000 WPA Workers Tighten Picket Lines In North

POLICE AND STRIKERS OF S. F. IN CLASH

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—(UP)—Five thousand striking WPA workers in San Francisco Bay area tightened their picket lines around scattered projects today in a move to combat any effort to resume work.

Police Oust Pickets
In Oakland, strong police guards drove back pickets at three sewing projects and allowed them to reopen. In San Francisco pickets were centered at the WPA regional headquarters and offices of the federal arts project.

The joint strike committee of the Workers' alliance and the American Federation of Government employees reported some violence at regional headquarters. This was denied by William Moser, district director, who said police merely had ejected several men and women who "tried to get into the employment office and start a sit-down."

Order Work Resumed

Walter Koettitz, east bay WPA director, said resumption of work had been ordered on projects in Oakland. Police said they would prevent interference.

The strike committee charged the WPA administration had issued 2000 new work permits, "a move unwarranted by the appropriations for this district for any other reason than strikebreaking."

"Any attempt to break the strike by forcing relief clients on to WPA relief rolls will be met by intensified picketing," Roy Nofitz and Ben Legere, chairman and secretary of the committee, said.

Moser denied any effort at "strikebreaking," explaining that a request put in some time ago for an increase in the WPA employment rolls for 16,000 to 17,000 "might now be possible."

Pickets Dispersed

A crowd of 200 pickets gathered when an Oakland sewing project opened, police sent for reinforcements and tear gas. Officers forced the pickets back and allowed 200 women, some of whom reportedly were brandishing shears at the strikers, to enter the building. Work finally was begun on the project about an hour later.

WOMAN, CHILD SLAIN IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(UP)—Police today had finger and footprints of the man who invaded the bedroom of Mrs. Edna Worden and pounded the 48-year-old author and her 12-year-old daughter to death with a brick.

Prayers Recorded

The killer left both bodies nearly bare in a room cluttered with religious books and pictures, and manuscripts that Mrs. Worden had composed. There was a blackboard in one corner of the bedroom on which the daughter, flaxen-haired Marguerite, recorded the time and length of her prayers.

Mrs. Worden was clad only in a nightgown. Marguerite's body lay on another bed. Her battered head lay beside a pillow, with which the last breath of life may have been smothered out of her. The imprint of the brick was left in the head board of the bed, indicating the killer may have flung it as he entered.

Doll Beside Child

Doctors believed an attempt had been made to ravish the child. A gingham doll lay beside her pillow. The intruder entered the two-room apartment through the kitchen window. He picked up his weapon from a brick pile outside, left fingerprints on the window sill and footprints from the house to the alley when he left.

The room was not ransacked, although Mrs. Worden's opened purse lay on the floor. Letters indicated that she was the wife of R. A. Worden, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Police think they may have been estranged.

Take Casts of Footprints

The killer had removed his shoes outside the building. Prints of his sock-feet led from the window to the alley. Detectives took plaster casts of the footprints and found traces of wool from the socks,

Thieves Steal 700 Pound Bronze Eagle

NEW YORK, April 5.—(UP)—Two detectives were searching today for a 700-lb., six-foot tall bronze eagle and the thieves who had strength enough to steal it from the rock garden of Mrs. Burghard Steiner's estate. Back in the gay nineties, the police were told, the eagle was brought to the Chicago fair as part of the Japanese exhibit. The bronze in it was valued at $700.

EX-LOVER OF MODEL SOUGHT

NEW YORK, April 5.—(UP)—Police broadcast an alarm today for Robert Irwin, 29 year old sculptor, who once was labeled a "sex psychopath" by psychiatrists, for questioning in the Easter day slayings of 20 year old Veronica Gedeon, beautiful artists model, her mother and a lodger in their apartment.

Detectives sent out the urgent alarm on the police teletype for Irwin's apprehension after it was learned that the sculptor, who once lived with the Gedeons, had been in New York the night and morning of the slayings. Guards were posted at all exits from the city.

The search for Irwin, who abandoned art to become a divinity student, diverted police attention from Joseph Gedeon, father of the slain model and estranged husband of the attractive Mrs. Mary Gedeon, 54, both of whom were strangled. Gedeon, it was learned, submitted to a "lie detector" test, which indicated he told the truth when he denied any knowledge of the triple murder.

Detectives, meanwhile, continued their search for the sharp pointed implement with which Byrnes, the lodger, was stabbed 11 times.

Investigators learned that Irwin had left St. Lawrence university at Canton, N. Y., where he was studying for the ministry, and was in New York over the Easter weekend. They said he once was an inmate of the Rockland state hospital for the insane.

WEBB ASKED TO DIRECT S. F. QUIZ

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—(UP)—District Attorney Matthew Brady, in a letter to Attorney General U. S. Webb, today requested the attorney general to assume control of the prosecution in the $1,000,000 San Francisco graft scandal. Selection of a new grand jury began this morning.

Presiding Judge James G. Conlan, the district attorney's office and the state attorney general's office questioned closely the 30 prospective jurors regarding their personal affiliations, whether they have any connections with key figures named in the Atherton report, and about their health.

"The health element is of the utmost importance," said Asst. Dist. Atty. Leslie C. Gillett, "jurors selected will have to spend long, arduous hours on the graft inquiry, and should have the stamina to last through the inquiry."

L. A. BABY DIES OF FALL INJURY

Nancy Ann Muron, 1½ years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Muron, of 2315 Huron street, Los Angeles, died at 6 a. m. today in Fullerton General hospital from subdural hemorrhage, resulting from a head injury suffered when she fell to the floor of her home Saturday.

Nancy came to Anaheim yesterday with her parents, to visit Mr. and Mrs. A. Anton, of Anaheim, friends. When it was discovered Nancy could no longer stand on her feet, but tumbled to the floor dizzily, she was rushed to the hospital. The body was removed to Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral chapel, Anaheim. Coroner Earl Abbey said no inquest would be held.

U. S. COURT JUDGE RAPS "LIBERALS"

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(UP)—Justice James C. McReynolds departed from the prepared text of his dissenting opinion in a supreme court minor case today to assert that "we believe in the Constitution as written and not whittled away by tenuous reasoning."

Statute Approved

McReynolds' remarks, regarded as of significance in the light of the present judiciary controversy, were presented in a dissent to a majority ruling which approved a District of Columbia statute which provides for trial without jury of certain petty offenses.

Justice Pierce Butler joined McReynolds in the dissent which was virtually the only business of the court decision day.

The expected supreme court decision on constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations act was not presented. Next Monday is now the earliest date at which the Wagner opinion can be announced.

Woman Involved

Speaking of Ethel Coawans, convicted without jury trial of unlicensed selling of railroad tickets, McReynolds emphasized the fact that it was a woman who was involved—a fact which immediately brought to listeners' minds last week's bitter court division over the Washington state minimum wage law for women.

"Our social predilections are so strong within us that we cannot consider this a petty offense," said McReynolds of the ticket selling case. "What is to become of the other solemn declarations of the"

RESUME AUTO STRIKE PARLEY

DETROIT, April 5.—(UP)—Gov. Frank Murphy, confident that he can restore peaceful relations between capital and labor in this strike-ridden industrial area, held a series of conferences with automobile manufacturers today in an effort to settle controversies affecting 73,400 workers.

The red-haired executive resumed at 11 a. m. his conference with Walter P. Chrysler and John L. Lewis on plans to end a strike that had made 60,000 Chrysler workers idle.

The conferees reportedly have agreed that any settlement must await the outcome of today's state election. Nine offices are involved, including two positions on the state supreme court. Automobile workers have been asked by union officials to support Murphy's candidates—all Democrats.

Murphy announced that "some time later this week" he would turn his mediation attempts to the Hudson and Reo Motor Car company strikers. Approximately 11,000 Hudson employees and 2400 Reo workers are idle.

Henry Ford was disclosed to have made a brief visit to his River Rouge factory here while sit-down strikers held possession of his Kansas City assembly plant. When the controversy was settled, he returned to his Ways, Ga., winter farm.

HOLD RANCHER ON EXTORTION CHARGE

MADERA, Cal., April 5.—(UP)—J. O. Brooks, 66, wealthy cotton grower, was held in the Madera county jail after he allegedly attempted to extort money from his son-in-law, C. A. Ridgeway, and another rancher, A. L. Baker, the sheriff's office said today.

Brooks, according to Sheriff W. O. Justice, signed his notes the "Black Legion" and asked $100 monthly payments from his son-in-law and $10,000 from Baker under threats of dynamiting their homes. The elderly rancher has refused to eat since his incarceration and claims he is going to commit suicide by starvation and will power in his cell, the sheriff said.

GUARDS LIVES OF BATHERS

Pluto, St. Bernard owned by Richard (Shorty) Gunther, awarded medal by the Latham foundation of Oakland, for his heroic action of saving the life of a Brea child at Newport Beach last summer. Pluto saved the lives of four other children during the summer. The medal will be presented during Be Kind To Animals week.

LOYALISTS IN NEW ATTACKS

MADRID, April 5.—(UP)—Loyalist artillery opened a terrific bombardment on the rebel positions in University City, in the western section of Madrid today. The attack came directly in the wake of a mass loyalist air attack on the rebel territory from the Madrid front to the south coast.

The crash of cannon fire echoed through the city as the artillery pounded the rebels in University City. It was reported that the loyalists repulsed a strong counter-offensive in the Guadajara sector, east of the capital, where the Italians were defeated two weeks ago. Today's engagement lasted about two hours.

Police today announced discovery of a plot to initiate uprisings in the city timed to coincide with a concerted rebel drive on Madrid. A "substantial group" of rebels were arrested.

Those arrested were rounded up in their purported headquarters in the market district of the capital.

CYANIDE IS USED IN DOUBLE SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—(UP)—The double suicide of a man and a wife, who copied the lethal death chamber idea to carry out their pact, was revealed by police today.

A nurse found the bodies of Lero Irish, mail carrier, and his wife, Charlotte, in their bed today. Doctors said they had died of cyanide poisoning.

They left a note indicating that mutual despondency—because they were in debt and she was an invalid—was the motive for their death pact.

As police reconstructed his actions, Irish sealed the cracks and windows of their bedroom with tape. Then, in the manner by which condemned men are executed in Nevada and Arizona, Irish proceeded to make a lethal chamber of the bedroom.

He dropped cyanide crystals into a container of acid. He undressed, put on his night clothes, and lay beside his wife in bed.

As the cyanide crystals started to dissolve in the acid, deadly fumes swirled about the room, killing them both.

YOUTH CONFESSES TABERNACLE FIRE

ZION, Ill., April 5.—(UP)—Thomas Griffith, 19, has confessed setting the fire which destroyed the great tabernacle and radio station of Wilbur Glenn Voliva's Christian Catholic church. Police Chief Alven Buesch announced today.

Griffith believed the overseer had "swindled" his foster-father, John Steiner, Buesch said. He sought revenge by destroying the temple where Voliva had preached the earth is flat and damned cigaret smoking, liquor, short skirts and bobbed hair.

Buesch said the youth surrendered voluntarily after hearing he was being sought, and presented a confession he had prepared in advance. He will be charged with arson, the chief said.

LABOR BOARD ACT PASSED BY ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 5.—(UP)—The assembly today passed the "little Wagner act," which sets up a California labor relations board to adjudicate industrial disputes within the state.

While the board would be empowered to work for the settlement of any labor difficulties, it would be prohibited from acting as arbitrator.

Under terms of the bill, first major labor legislation to be passed at this session, the governor would appoint three members to the board, each to receive $7500 annually. The original members would serve until January 10, 1939, when a new board would be named.

The act recognizes the right of labor to organize and select its own representatives for collective bargaining purposes. Unfair labor practices are defined and penalties for violation outlined.

Employers would be prohibited from spying on the activities of employees or other representatives, from dominating or interfering with the formation or administration of any labor organization, financial contributions or other support from employers to employee organizations would be prohibited and the employer would be restrained from requiring any worker to join a company union.

Discharge or discrimination against an employee because of union activities would be prohibited. Employers would be required to engage in collective bargaining.

Violation of the unfair labor practices provision would be punishable by three years imprisonment and a fine of $5000 or both.

PLANE SOUGHT IN MOUNTAINS

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(UP)—Carl Cover of the Douglas aircraft plant at Santa Monica announced shortly before noon today that one of the company's planes was en route to the Mogollon mountains in eastern Arizona, where it was reported wreckage had been sighted of the missing transport which disappeared after taking off from Burbank Saturday.

Set Up Base
Officials at the Douglas plant, following a conference, decided to set up a base for searching operations at Winslow, Ariz., and send a second ship to that point to take up the hunt.

The missing transport was one built for the Dutch KLM airlines and was being flown to the east coast for delivery. It was equipped with radio receiving apparatus, but carried no sending set, and it was hoped that lack of the word from the ship might be due to a forced landing in some inaccessible spot, and not to disaster.

Harry Wetzel, general manager of the Douglas company, said that every effort would be made to locate the missing craft, but he pointed out that, with no indication.

SIX CHILDREN DIE WHEN HOME BURNS

PORT ALLEGANY, Pa., April 5.—(UP)—Trapped by an explosion and fire in their second floor bedroom, six children were burned to death today while firemen, lacking water, looked on helplessly.

The victims were the children of Gerald Sweezey, 40, a chemical factory worker. Sweezey and his wife, only survivors of the family of eight, were burned seriously.

The fire started from an oil burner explosion. Heavy rains, which turned the land into a muddy swamp, prevented volunteer firemen from laying hose to a creek 500 feet from the house.

In a bedroom the charred bodies of Mary Sweezey, 13; Mary Ellen, 11; Geraldine, 9; Jerry, 5; Leola, 3, and Maxine, five months, were found.

GUFFEY COAL BILL PASSED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(UP)—The senate today passed the Guffey bituminous coal control bill, setting up a code of fair practices for the soft coal industry, after defeating the controversial Byrnes amendment which was intended to condemn sit-down strikes.

Mayor Owes City For His Services

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 5.—(UP)—Mayor Charles P. Baxter today owed the city $8.34 for his services during March. He missed five successive city commission meetings because of illness. The city charter provides a $10 penalty for each absence. His March salary was only $41.66.

MOSER FORMER FULLERTON BOY

Glen C. Moser, 30, pilot of the giant Douglas DC-3 plane, mysteriously missing on a trip from the Union Air Terminal in Burbank to New York, formerly was a Fullerton boy and is well known in that city.

Moser lived in Fullerton many years and moved to Santa Monica last summer. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Marie Brandscow, still is a resident of Fullerton and resides at 425 East Commonwealth avenue. Moser resided in Fullerton while he learned to fly at March field in Riverside.

Moser was involved in a wreck last fall on the same kind of a trip he was making when he left for New York Saturday. He was making delivery of a new Douglas plane in New York when he crashed up.

20 Per Cent Royalty
A minimum royalty of 20 per cent would be required, and each bidder would have to post a bond of $50,000 to assure good faith.

The bill would exclude island drilling, but permit direct drilling from piers or groins. The state would be forced to obtain right of way through privately owned land adjoining the beach to assure passage to and from the piers.

No provision was made, should private bids be unacceptable.

PRESIDENT SEEKS PERMANENT C.C.C.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt recommended to congress today that the Civilian Conservation Corps be made a permanent part of the federal recovery and relief program.

In a special message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt set the maximum enrollment of CCC youths at 300,000, together with 10,000 Indians and 500 enrollees in U. S. territories and insular possessions.

In setting that figure for corps enrollment, the president withstood congressional pressure for increased CCC personnel.

"To go beyond this number at this time," he said, "...the additional cost would seriously affect the financial position of the treasury."

Mr. Roosevelt sent his special message to congress on the fourth anniversary of the date he established CCC by executive order.

Cost of maintaining about 300,000 CCC youths in camps will be $300,000,000 for the 1938 fiscal year. The president named that figure in his budget estimates last January.

The missing transport was one built for the Dutch KLM airlines and was being flown to the east coast for delivery. It was equipped with radio receiving apparatus, but carried no sending set, and it was hoped that lack of the word from the ship might be due to a forced landing in some inaccessible spot, and not to disaster.

BLAME DEATH ON TRICK TAUGHT DOG

NEW YORK, April 5.—(UP)—The trick Patrolman Patrick Conroy taught his German shepherd dog cost him his life today.

The dog playfully leaped at Conroy, knocked him down and discharged a service revolver that the policeman held in his hand.

Conroy had proudly demonstrated how the dog could disarm a gunman or throw a man.

Conroy had engaged in a trivial argument with his wife, it was said, and they had answered each other sharply. The dog suddenly growled at his master. Surprised and nettled, Conroy drew his revolver to brandish at the dog. Without warning the animal sprang forward.

"Every time the men evacuate plant by court order or are blow out of it by gas, it's a blow to our organized labor and the manufacturer knows it," Hall told a cheering crowd of 2,000 as he explained the technique.

"Use the sit-down to start you strike and get organized. But a soon as you are organized, make a point to evacuate your plant before the court puts you out."

MEASURE IS APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

The controversial tideland oil drilling issue moved to the lower house of the California legislature today for the first time this year when the oil industries committee recommended for passage Assemblyman John H. O'Donnell's bill to permit direct tideland drilling at Huntington Beach, according to United Press dispatch to The Register from Sacramento today.

Delays Encountered
Until the committee took this action, the issue had been confined to arguments on the senate side of the legislature. Delays there in the legislature have been a hindrance to the passage of a tideland bill of their own.

O'Donnell's measure would set aside a two-mile strip at Huntington Beach, exempt it from the present law prohibiting direct tideland drilling, subdivide the area into 10 sections about 1,000 feet wide and a mile long, and permit the state division of lands to advertise for bids on any one or all of the strips.

A minimum royalty of 20 per cent would be required, and each bidder would have to post a bond of $50,000 to assure good faith.

The bill would exclude island drilling, but permit direct drilling from piers or groins. The state would be forced to obtain right of way through privately owned land adjoining the beach to assure passage to and from the piers.

No provision was made, should private bids be unacceptable.

END STRIKE OF FORD WORKERS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 5.—(UP)—The full force of men Ford Motor company's plant here went back to work on assembly lines today under an agreement which settled a one day sitdown strike.

New Time Cards
New time cards and the promise of a pay check today greeted the 2300 workers.

Union leaders expected to learn from the pay checks whether the layoff in which they charged the management used a "systematic" discrimination against union men was to become effective.

Ed Hall, vice president of the United Automobile Workers' union, who negotiated the peace, told that all employees were to return to the plant, "even those who quit."

Checks To Show Layoffs
Workers believed the check would show how many men were to be affected by production cutback. If the check was for March 15 to April 1, they indicated it would show the man was to be retained. If checks included pay for two extra days in April it would be an indication recipients were to be laid off, workers said.

The agreement was that seniority would be respected in every company. Layoffs last week affected 350 men. Hall, who came here from Detroit to negotiate peace terms, said:

"For the first time a strike has been successfully consummated against the Ford Motor company. Leader Gives Warning

He told the workers to go back to their jobs "without any chips on your shoulders," and he warned them against abusing the sit-down technique.

"Every time the men evacuate plant by court order or are blow out of it by gas, it's a blow to our organized labor and the manufacturer knows it," Hall told a cheering crowd of 2,000 as he explained the technique.

"Use the sit-down to start you strike and get organized. But a soon as you are organized, make a point to evacuate your plant before the court puts you out."

BUYERS OF EMPIRE GROCERY BEGIN NEW WORK HERE TODAY

Hagan was connected with the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company for many years while Vidal has been manager of the Empire grocery since it was opened. Vidal will continue as manager.

Hagan this morning declared there would be no change in personnel at the store and the same policies that have been in force for the last four years will be carried on. Fifteen clerks now are employed by the market and Hagan said they all would be retained and possibly one or two more added.

Several improvements are being planned by the new owners. These will be made as fast as possible. Hagan refused to state what amount of money was involved in the transaction.

ASSEMBLY GETS NEW OIL BILL

would eliminate the necessity of slant drilling through land owned and controlled by the Standard Oil company or its affiliates.

Cites Elwood Drilling
"The question of saving the beaches isn't an issue," O'Donnell said. "Pier drilling has been done at Elwood Beach, near Santa Barbara, for 10 years and there has been no beach pollution resulting. The present slant drilling from littoral lands at Huntington Beach has done more to ruin the beach there than pier drilling would accomplish."

The measure would require a minimum of five wells per lease to assure the rapid development of the immense state-owned oil deposits at Huntington Beach. Under the present slant drilling system, the state receives an average of about 11 per cent, compared with the 20 per cent minimum O'Donnell's bill would demand.

Similar to Olson Bill
The assembly measure was similar in some respects to one introduced by Sen. Culbert L. Olson in the upper house, and which Olson's bill would permit slant drilling, require a royalty of 30 per cent and permit the state to do its own drilling if bids were not acceptable.

amendment? (Sixth amendment guaranteeing right of trial by jury.)

"Does this mean that she may be denied a speedy trial, a right to appear and face the charges, to be taken to distant places for a trial, or to have counsel?"

Constitutional Guarantees
"Somehow we can't escape the idea that constitutional guarantees ought not to be subordinated to convictions."

The opinion served to throw back at the "liberal" element of the court the word "prediction" which has figured prominently in the court fight.

Liberal Justice Harlan F. Stone first used it last spring in his dissent in the New York minimum wage case. He protested what he charged was the "economic predilections" of the majority of the court in holding the New York law unconstitutional.

Quoted by President
President Roosevelt quoted Stone's phrase in defending his judiciary bill in a fireside chat. Last Monday Justice George Sutherland upbraided the court liberals for their use of the word.

The opinion presented today by McReynolds appeared to be a joint literary effort.

Customarily, a dissenting opinion bears in its caption only the name of the jurist who wrote it. At the end of the opinion usually appears the names of the other dissenting jurists. In today's opinion, the heading was "The Separate Opinion of Mr. Justice McReynolds and Mr. Justice Butler."

Injunction Refused
It refused to interfere with an injunction restraining the Georgia Power company from prosecuting a suit against the Tennessee Valley authority.

It refused as it has several times in the past to hear a request for an injunction against a National Labor Relations board hearing.

equipped with a harness bearing a traffic light for use as protection from automobiles when he travels the streets at night. This light, however, was but little protection a few weeks ago when a careless motorist struck the dog as he was crossing Newport boulevard. Pluto has recovered from his injuries and already is patrolling the beaches along with members of the life guard detail.

Gunther formerly owned two female St. Bernards, Lena Belle and Queen Katherine. Both these dogs were poisoned, Lena Belle, September 28, last, and Queen Katherine less than a month later.

Formal Ceremony Soon
The Latham medal was secured through the efforts of Charles Ocan, president of the Orange County Humane society, and will be presented at a formal ceremony as a part of this county's observance of Be Kind To Animals week, April 11 to 17. Date for the presentation will be announced later.

Pluto was born June 1, 1932, and is registered with the A. K. C. under the number A-72506.

Through efforts of Ocan, a similar medal was secured last year for Sir Buddy Gannon, French bulldog owned by Earl V. Hawks. Santa Ana realtor, Sir Buddy was honored for saving the life of Mrs. Hawks when she was endangered by gas fumes.

Tustin Will Be Scene of Soil Meeting Tonight

W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, will preside at an extensive soil conservation program at the Tustin high school at 7:30 p. m. today.

This will be the first of six meetings to be held in the county in the interest of the soil rehabilitation program.

Provisions of this program were outlined at 12:15 p. m. by Dr. H. R. Tolley who has charge of the agricultural adjustment administration in Washington, D. C. in an electrical transcription broadcast locally.

Cory will explain the purpose of the soil conservation program at the meetings. Following this discussion, officers will be elected.

A chairman, vice-chairman, a third and an alternate member will be selected. The chairman automatically will become a member of the county board of directors.

Additional meetings will be held in Santa Ana, Westminster, Fullerton, Anaheim and San Juan Capistrano. Tomorrow's meeting will be held at the Spurgeon school.

The dial telephone system was originally patented in 1892.

Spanish Rebels on Defensive

Following up an attack which forced Rebels from Alcaracejos and saved valuable mercury mines at Almaden, Spanish Loyalist troops drove from Pozoblanco and Villanueva to trap the fleeing enemy at Villaharta, just outside Cordoba. Loyalists immediately renewed their drive on Jadrara, north of Guadalupe; started a new campaign for Burgos from the Santander area, and another on Motril on the south. Rebels suffered minor setbacks before Madrid. Meanwhile, Rebel revolts and unrest were reported at La Linea, Malaga, Tetuan and Tarifa.

GIRL SINGERS FOUND SCARCE

PASADENA, Cal. (UP)—Pasadena community dance officials are authority for the statement that good girl singers are so scarce now that orchestra directors marry them to be sure of their services. The statement is based on a check up of the singers and orchestra leaders who have been engaged for various community dance entertainments.

The sum of $1,500,000,000 was spent by the United States during the World War for aviation purposes.

PLANE SOUGHT IN MOUNTAINS

tions of where to begin the search, a tremendous area of wild and rugged country would have to be covered.

Check Riverside Report
While the Douglas conference was programming the hunt, word came to Sheriff Eugene Blacall, of Los Angeles, from Sheriff Carl Rayburn of Riverside he was checking reports to his office that a ship believed to have been the one which disappeared had been heard over a remote section of Riverside county Saturday. Sheriff Rayburn also said that J. D. Skeele, of San Vincente, reported seeing two fliers in the rugged mountain country southwest of Anza at 9:15 and 9:20 o'clock last night. Rayburn informed Blacall that he would check both reports thoroughly.

6 Passengers on Ship
The big DC-3, built to accommodate 21 persons and measuring 190 feet across the wings, was not carrying a "pay load" on her flight out of Los Angeles. All aboard, besides its veteran Pilot Glen Moser, and Co-Pilot Joe Wolf, folk, were friends or relatives of company officials. The list, given out by the Douglas company, was:

Bernard Troy Jr., 33, Santa Monica parking station operator. George Kent, address unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Merl Estey, Santa Monica, Douglas engineer and his wife. Mrs. B. B. Brunderlin, Santa Monica, mother of a Douglas engineer.

E. R. Moser, 55, father of Pilot Moser and operator of a boy's camp in the high Sierras.

Followed Transport
The big craft was trailing a regular transcontinental air transport on the flight eastward. The TWA ship reported that it had been forced to fly blind through snowstorms and rain over Arizona and it was feared that the same storms had brought the missing plane to grief.

LUMBERJACKS SEARCH ARIZONA MOUNTAINS

SPRINGVILLE, Ariz., April 5.—(UP)—Posses of lumberjacks patrolled the desolate mountainsides in this area today in search of a Douglas transport plane carrying eight passengers which an 11-year-old boy claimed he saw crash.

The child, a son of Henry McDaniel, ranger atop Escudilla peak in the White mountains, told his parents that he watched the plane spiral to the ground as he was playing in the yard of his isolated home.

The child's story at first was discounted, but later reports of persons seeing the plane flying dangerously low and its motors missing fire convinced officers that a search should be made.

ROLE OF MENTAL DISCIPLINE IN MODERN EDUCATION WILL BE TOPIC AT FORUM TUESDAY

Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools and program chairman for tomorrow night's Forum for Political and Economic Education, announced today the discussion will bear upon the place of mental discipline in modern education.

"Although we are planning to have two speakers who will take up the question from opposite viewpoints, actually the program will not be a debate in the true sense of the word," Superintendent Adkinson said. "The real purpose of two speakers is to have brought up for discussion, as many points on the subject as possible."

Courage in Thinking

The discussion will be on the question, "Resolved, that Studying of Subjects in High Schools and Colleges Does Not Discipline the Mind and Enables the Student to Solve the Problems of Life Which Are Not Related to the Study Subjects." Dr. J. D. Williams of Fullerton Junior college will argue that such studying does discipline the mind so that the student may cope with problems of life and another speaker, possibly the Rev. Mr. Powell, pastor of the Buena Park Congregational church, will take an opposite viewpoint.

"Courage in thinking is our salvation," said Superintendent Adkinson, "and real education involves all lay situations. I would like to believe that our teachers can lead in courageous thinking but they must have the public support in that thinking if we are to progress. Let us not be afraid to speak our minds. Cultivating courageous thinking is the real purpose of the forum."

The public is invited to take part in the forum program, beginning at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in the junior college building, 917 North Main street.

GRAVET LIKED IN COMEDY ROLE

There have been many new stars introduced to movie fans the world over in the last few months but never in the history of the cinema has such a magnetic personality as Fernand Gravet, who makes his American screen debut in "The King and the Chorus Girl," now showing at the Broadway theater.

Gravet, brought here from Paris, has what it takes in charm and capability to create a permanent place for himself among the top-notch stars of filmland. Moreover, he will capture the feminine fancy just as Chevalier did in his initial bow to American audiences.

As the ex-king in "The King and the Chorus Girl," a sophisticated comedy with a continental flavor, he provides the delightful new farce with gay and bright comedy.

The story is laid in Paris where Gravet is drinking himself to death for lack of anything else to do to make his mind from his lost kingdom.

Joan Blondell plays the role of a chorus girl and her excellent performance almost equals that of the brilliant new star. Mary Nash, distinguished stage actress is superb as Duchess Anna and Edward Everett Horton is riotously funny as the prime minister. Alan Mowbray makes his short part as the chorus girl's pseudo fiancé, outstanding.

"Time Out For Romance" provides the Broadway double bill with still more comedy.

Clair Trevor and Michael Whalen are starred in this action picture with Joan Davis, Chick Chandler, Douglas Fowley and Bennie Bartlett heading the supporting cast.

Latest word regarding the condition of Mrs. Loren Mead of Nanking, China, has relieved the minds of relatives and family friends in this community. Mrs. Maurice A. Yarnell is reported as improving daily at her home, 1210 North Ross street, where she is suffering from a broken arm. The injury came as result of a fall a week ago when she was at Balboa chaperoning a house party of Junior College Las Gitanas of which her granddaughter, Miss Betty West, is a member. The broken arm is knitting nicely, and Mrs. Yarnell is now able to be up part of each day.

Miss Farla Nell Clayton, 2703 Victoria drive, Laguna Beach, went to Los Angeles yesterday to visit her father, O. H. Clayton, who is seriously ill in the Hospital of the Good Samaritan.

Norman Burgess, 1615 West Seventh street, who underwent a major operation at St. Joseph's hospital last Friday, is reported to be improving steadily. However, he will not be able to see visitors until the latter part of the week.

KENT, Ohio, (UP)—Much of the present cynicism toward religion is traceable to intellectual laziness rather than to a conflict with science, believes Dr. W. J. Burner, head of the Spanish department at Kent state university.

Launch Pulled From Surf At Newport
The "Yume-No-Ko," motor launch out of San Diego bound for San Pedro, was hauled to safety out of the surf between Balboa and Newport at 6:15 a. m. today by Harbor Master Thomas Bouchee. The small craft, owned by Curt Juhl, San Diego, had been floating aimlessly about off shore since 6 p. m. yesterday.

On board were the owner and two other men, whose names were not obtained by the harbor master. Juhl told Bouchee that a coil in the engine had burned out last night. The trio was unable to make repairs.

DON ANDREWS' NEW FURNITURE HOME

Below is a striking photograph of Santa Ana's newest modern furniture company, that of Don Andrews, and which is located at 112 East Fifth street. Andrews will be in charge of the formal opening of the new store tomorrow evening. Below is Don Andrews.

NEW STORE TO BE FORMALLY OPENED TOMORROW MORNING

Don Andrews, who for the past 31 years has been a resident of Santa Ana, will open a new, modern furniture company at 112 East Fifth street tomorrow.

Andrews was connected with a Long Beach concern for the last four years. He left the management of that firm to open a business of his own here.

Previously he was associated with a Santa Ana store where he held an executive position for 12 years.

Andrews' new location on East Fifth street has been remodeled and designed to meet the requirements of a modern, up to date furniture concern.

"We are going to handle all kinds and grades of furniture," Andrews said, "I am sure that we can meet any requirement in our line."

Not only did Andrews spend most of his life in Santa Ana, as he attended the schools here. His business career was interrupted by the World war as he saw service overseas.

He is well acquainted with the needs of this city and is ready to serve it.

Andrews said, "I am sure that we can meet any requirement in our line."

Members from the San Diego, Glendale, Long Beach and Pasadena chapters attended the meeting.

Mayor and Mrs. Fred C. Rowland, J. A. Cranston, former superintendent of schools and the Rev. and Mrs. Harry E. Owings were guests at the impressive service.

The club will hold its weekly meeting at Danagers Cafe tomorrow noon, Bradford, club secretary, announced.

Two Santa Anans Contribute Verse For New Volume

Emulating Miss Beulah May and her collection of original verse based on Orange county in some of its manifold forms, Rena Sheffield of Los Angeles has made a similar anthology of Los Angeles county verse, except that she has gone a step further and has brought the anthology out in book form under the title of "The Vermilion Bird."

"The Vermilion Bird" is now off

the press and is attracting a certain amount of local interest by reason of the inclusion among its contributors of two Santa Ana writers, Beulah May and Mina Shafer. Both have written charming poems for the volume, based on some definite feature of character of Los Angeles county.

Such writers as Robinson Jeffers, Don Blanding, James Neill, Northe, James B. Foley, John Steven McGroarty, Arthur Truman Merrill and Ruth Comfort Mitchell are represented in the anthology.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue. In much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace. Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

ANAHEIM MAN TAKES LEAD IN MARATHON OF OLD-TIME COINS

By GEORGE HART

The Methuselah Marathon for aged coins today brought "pennies from Heaven" and almost every place beneath it, with Frank Navarro, 317 Bush street, Anaheim, running well in front. Navarro has a 1795 penny.

He also has an 1802 penny, which ranks third in the competition to date. Both coins were shown by his brother-in-law, A. G. Contreras, 1314 Bush street, Santa Ana.

In second place is Charles Beardsley, 510 Acacia, Garden Grove, who shows an 1801 penny, its denomination indicated by the figures 1/100 on one side of the coin. Beardsley also has pennies of 1816, 1822 and 1839.

Sh-h, It's Gold!

Richard George, a forty-niner who lived on the Feather River in northern California, has no 1795 United States penny, but he does have a Spanish quarter of that pennies of 1816, 1836 and 1848, also one of 1858, showing an eagle in flight.

Mrs. Lottie Maxson, Anaheim, who also has a flying-eagle penny of 1858, has pennies of 1817, and 1938, and a half-cent of 1828.

Mrs. J. C. Herrin, 309 South Birch, Santa Ana, has an 1819 penny; also an 1826 half-cent; an 1862 three-cent piece made of silver; an 1865 three-cent piece, made of nickel; and a half-dollar of 1829, which has "half dollar" printed around its rim.

"I WANT TO KNOW ALL ABOUT THE PACKARD SIX"

"THAT'S JUST THE REASON FOR LADIES' WEEK"

THE COUPON AT THE RIGHT will bring you specific figures showing how easy the Packard Six is to purchase.

But—that's only half the story. We'd like to have the chance to answer all your questions about the Packard Six. Frankly, we believe it's the perfect personal car for women. And we've planned Ladies' Week to give you a special opportunity to see what a thrill it is to own and drive a Packard.

You'll be glad to know, too, that this new Packard gives you all the power and response of a 100-horsepower motor—yet has the thriftiness with gasoline for which six-cylinder motors are famous. Ask us to show you some actual figures on the car's low gasoline consumption. And because the Packard Six is so simple in design, it can be serviced very cheaply. This simplicity of design is important, for on the ordinary repair bill, perhaps 70% of the charge is for labor.

In fact, most service operations can be performed more quickly, with less labor hours, on a Packard Six than on the average car costing less—even cars celebrated for their low service costs.

These terms sound rather masculine, we know, but they're important to every motorist's pocketbook. So—take your first step toward Packard Six ownership, without obligation. Simply fill out and mail the coupon—then join us during Ladies' Week, April 5th to 17th.

NEED MILITANT SPIRIT IN THE CHURCH, CLAIM

Calling for a spirit of aggressive, militant Christianity, Dr. Walter A. Maier of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., speaking yesterday on the coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour broadcast, proposed a code of action for American churches.

"There must be a return to the whole Christ," Dr. Maier said, "to the entire Bible and the complete teachings of the Scriptures. Never before has the failure of modernism and the collapse of materialism been so great as in this hour, and never before has the need been so acute for a vigorous Christian spirit."

Urges Campaigns
"All anti-Christian, anti-Biblical, and anti-moral teachings must be excluded from public educational systems in the higher and lower schools of our nation. On all fronts widespread campaigns must be waged against atheistic communism, particularly because of its acknowledged purpose to break the home ties and eliminate Christian marriage."

"The church's responsibility is not to present economic theories nor propose legislative programs, but to seek the Kingdom of God and to prepare men for the next world."

The Lutheran Hour yesterday concluded its series of 29 broadcasts over a special coast-to-coast network of 30 stations. The response to this fourth Lutheran Hour series has been so generous and so much larger than ever before, Dr. Maier said, that the broadcasts will be resumed over a larger network next fall.

ATTRACTIVE CEREMONIES UNITE POPULAR YOUNG ORANGE COUPLE

ORANGE, April 5.—Stately white candles, tall white blooms of stock and white easter lilies at the altar of St. John's Lutheran church caught and held the many colored soft lights filtered through the stained glass windows, as Miss Dorothy Stade and Henry Bosch, prominent young people of this city plighted their troth Saturday afternoon with the pastor of the church, the Rev. ### WAITING FOR THE GUN —Moments when nervous tension reaches the crest. As Glenn says: "It's a punishing pace." Like many another champion who prizes good condition and health, Glenn Hardin chooses Camels for his cigarette. "They never jangle my nerves," he says.

SAILING OVER A LOW HURDLE

—It looks effortless, but Glenn's strained, tense face shows how the race drains tremendous physical and nervous energy out of him.

TOPPING A HIGH HURDLE

—Superb form helped Glenn win honors in 2 Olympics—and brought him the world's record. His record-breaking time, 50.6 seconds for the 400-meter hurdles, was sensational.

BREASTING THE TAPE

—Glenn Hardin is famous for his sprinting finish. He calls on his reserve energy to send him flying to the tape. And after the finish, he lights up a Camel. Why? Because, in his own words: "Camels help to ease strain. They set me right."

The picture (right) shows Glenn enjoying his favorite meal—rare, thick, juicy steak, green vegetables, fruit, milk, and Camels. As Glenn phrases it: "It wouldn't do me much good to eat and not digest properly. So I smoke Camels for digestion's sake. It's grand to light up Camels and enjoy the sense of well-being that comes when digestion is going along o-kay."

"NO MAN WANTS JITTERY NERVES, when there's high voltage all around him," says Raymond Newby, radio engineer. "That's why my choice is Camels. I've always heard, and my own experience convinces me, that Camels don't jangle the nerves."

INTENSE INTEREST CENTERS ON MODJESKA JEWELS IN MUSEUM

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

Few of the loan exhibits at Bowers Memorial Museum, whether in the display cases, ranged on tables, or as paintings and some fine draperies, hung on the walls, have attracted the deep interest that is attached to the Modjeska collection. Therefore it is of special importance to learn that this collection, already an unusually fine one, has been considerably augmented by other valuable souvenirs of the world's greatest tragedienne, Madame Helena Modjeska.

Articles newly on display have been loaned by Mr. and Mrs. James Willis Rice, to whom they came from Mr. Rice's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rice, long close personal friends of Madame Modjeska and her distinguished husband, Count Charles Bozenta.

Special "Charm"
Prominent among the articles is a rosary of Russian garnets which Count Bozenta wore constantly as a very special "charm." It had been blessed by the Pope and was one of his choicest possessions, and he presented it to Mr. and Mrs. Rice in 1888.

Of the articles so closely associated with Madame Modjeska are various details of the costume she wore in one of her greatest roles, that of Cleopatra. These include the beautiful golden sandals, a pair of jewel-studded bracelets and a jeweled armlet. All have been placed in the big wall case where other Modjeska treasures on display have been loaned by members of the family, Felix Modjeska of Balboa Island, and his sister, Mrs. S. F. Pattison of Tucson, Ariz. The Rice family, Dr. J. P. Boyd, Mrs. Carrie Yoch, Barnett, and others who treasure memories and mementoes of close friendship in the days when the world-famous Modjeska retired from the stage to the charm and restfulness of life in Orange county.

The meeting opened with group singing, following which was the Bible Study hour, under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Flynn. Later in the evening, games were played, and refreshments consisting of pop corn, cookies, cake and punch, were served by Mrs. Flynn.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

"MERCIFUL MUZZLES"

Several readers, notably T. M. E. of St. Louis, have written asking what was meant by my phrase, "merciful muzzles." Muzzles are of many kinds: including some whose straps keep a dog's jaws tight shut, so that he cannot pant, much less yawn or lap a tongueful of drinking water.

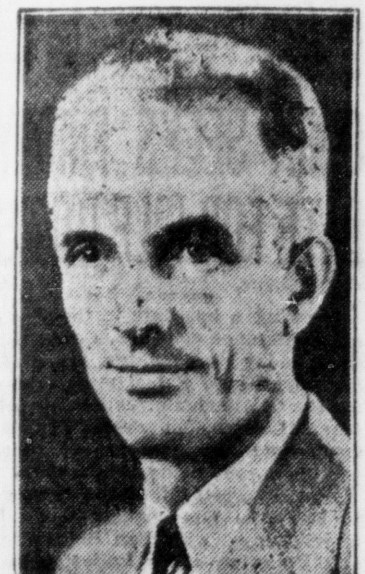

The so-called merciful muzzles, on the contrary, are made with sliding bars and hinges which move at the very slightest pressure. They permit the dog to open his jaws wide, for yawning or for panting. He can drink all the water he may care to. But the thin metal bars in front of his mouth prevent him from biting.

These and other varieties of merciful muzzles may be bought at any large sporting-goods store and at most first class hardware shops. In choosing a muzzle, make certain that it fits your dog's nose comfortably. Almost always this can be done by a slight adjustment of straps, etc. At first make him wear it only a few minutes at a time. Accustom him to associate it in his mind with his daily outdoor exercise. Soon he will be used to it. Where the law insists that dogs be muzzled, the muzzle can at least be comfortable to its wearer.

Elizabeth Lee Is Hostess At Club Meeting

VILLA PARK, April 5.—The Modern Priscilla club met recently at the home of Miss Elizabeth Lee, 623 E. Palm street, Orange. After an hour of visiting and sewing, guests were delightfully entertained by Master Richard Smith, nephew of Miss Lee, who gave two whistling numbers, after which he favored them with two violin solos. During a short business meeting, a committee, composed of all active charter members, was appointed to arrange for the program for the club's 25th anniversary, which will be a month from now. It was announced that the next meeting would be held in the home of Mrs. H. D. Nichols on April 14, at 2 p. m. Late in the afternoon, refreshments were served by the hostess in a very "interesting and novel manner."

Members present were: Mesdames Nell Adams, Agnes Adams, Fay Baker, Clara Bell, Hazel Brewer, Vida Collins, Agnes Cruzon, Martha Crawford, Clara DeLong, Lora Gardiner, Lilly Hol-ditch, Madge Hughes, Eunice Nichols, Hilda Ragen, Olga Rosenau, Louise Streetch, Amelia Sudorf, Lucille Sutherland, Josephine Tritt, Miss Margaret Holditch, and the hostess, Miss Elizabeth Lee. Guests included Miss Lee's mother, Mrs. Elma Lee, of Orange, her sister, Mrs. Roy Smith, and children, Richard and Virginia Smith, of Laguna Beach.

YESTERDAY'S HEROES

PETE HERMAN
FORMER BANTAM-WEIGHT CHAMPION OF
THE WORLD.

HASN'T LET HIS BLINDNESS
CAUSED BY RING INJURIES
KEEP HIM FROM MAKING GOOD AS A BUSINESS MAN.

PETE OWNS A NIGHT CLUB
IN NEW ORLEANS.

HE WAS ONE OF THE GREATEST FIGHTERS
OF ALL TIME.

This is the fifth of a series about former sports stars.

BY RICHARD MCCANN
NEA Service Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS.—For Pete's sake, when you come to New Orleans, be sure to drop in at the Club Plantation for a chat with Pete Herman, nee Gulotta.

The great little old fighter will be glad to see you.

Glad to see you? . . . Well, no—no, that's wrong. Of course, Pete'll be glad that you've dropped in.
But he won't be able to see you.
Pete is blind.

One eye went bad on Pete while he was still the bantamweight champion of the world. The other gave him dim and dimmer after his retirement. A few years ago it, too, became totally sightless.

However, Pete doesn't grumble as he gropes through his life of shadows. He's gay as a night at the Mardi Gras. And he hasn't allowed his infirmity to hold him back in the business world. He's the bustling owner and manager of the prosperous Club Plantation, one of New Orleans' brightest spots. He bought it, along with a big farm, with his ring earnings, which he saved carefully.

You'll find Pete at the club every night, weaving in and out of the tables to see that everybody's happy and getting their sazeracs and planter's punches on time.
Despite his blindness, Pete is able to get around the club by himself. "I don't bump into as many people or as many tables as some of the customers—they're sort of blind, too, you know, half the time, if you get what I mean,"
says Pete with a curl of a smile.

Pete is fat and 41—he must be a heavyweight on the scales—but he's still pretty tough.

Every once in a while the boys say that Pete, without any assistance, takes hold of some sloberbering celebrator, who has gone to the well once or twice, too often, and heaves him out of the joint—pardon, out of the establishment, we should say, because Pete's place is quite as orderly as any night club.

The two-time bantamweight champion doesn't condemn the right game for robbing him of his sight. . . . "Why should I sit around cussing to myself and feeling miserable and making everybody else unhappy? Huh? Why should I?" says Pete. "Don't you think it's best to make the best of it? And, anyway," the bright little fellow says with another smile, "and, anyway, I saw everything worth seeing. . . ."

Pete still goes to the fights now and then. He likes to hear the thud-thud of gloves on flesh, and to listen to the chatter and clamor of the crowd, and feel and smell the resin and the smoke clouds. Sometimes, he says, he can almost see.

The injury which caused Pete's blindness was suffered in a charity bout. . . . "I was boxing Gussie Lewis in Philadelphia for the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' tobacco fund," says Pete, "when this Lewis cracked me in the eye. I saw stars and it felt like somebody was sticking a hot needle through it. That was the beginning of the end."

"After six months it was no better, and they took a cataract from my eye. They told me the operation was a success, but when they took the bandages off, I couldn't see out of the eye at all.

Jack Lelivelt May Replace Grimm If Cubs Flop Again

(This is the sixth of a series about major league training camps and 1937 prospects.)

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Service Sports Writer

AVAILON.—Trade winds blew new life into the lair of the Chicago Cubs and Boss Charlie Grimm is fairly certain that he has a possible pennant-winning gang here.

Charlie's face is red from ex-posure to California's sun, but it's redder from talking about the brilliant "Rip" Collins and Leroy Parmelee. He thinks these gentlemen, lured from St. Louis in exchange for Lon Warneke, have strengthened the Cubs immeasurably since last year's El Foldo.

And it's just as well, too, because folks are still wondering how and why the Cubs failed to copy the National league flag in 1936. Philip K. Wrigley, who pays the bills, is among those stumped, and annoyed.

Jack Lelivelt's presence with the Bruin entourage may be significant. Obviously, Lelivelt merely is assisting Grimm in the club's training, but he previously has been prominently mentioned as the banjo strummer's successor.

Lelivelt enjoyed success as manager of the Bruins' Los Angeles farm and before that ably piloted
the Milwaukee Brewers. P. K.
Wrigley hasn't forgotten his father's good fortune with Joe McCarthy, who came out of the minors to build a flag-winner and establish attendance records that never have been approached.

Grimm is not grim, however.
He's rather highly hopeful and confident that his club will produce now with the new additions.
"Warneke is a swell guy to have around," said Grimm, "but I think we got the best of the trade with St. Louis. Parmelee is good for a lot of games and we figure he'll win at least 18."

"And then, too, our weakness at first base last year is solved by Collins. He's the hardest hitting first baseman in the National."

"With Collins at first, Billy Herman at second, Stan Hack at third, and Bill Jurgens at short, we should have the strongest defensive infield in the league."

The trade winds also waited Luis Frey to the Cub infield from Brooklyn in exchange for Woody English and Roy Henshaw. Frey, dependable hitter and smooth fielder, will operate in a utility berth. Henry Majske, who banged the ball for 365 with Eau Claire last year, is a promising rookie infielder.

Besides Parmelee, there will be four starting Cub hurlers—"Tex"
Carleton, Curt Davis, Larry
French and Bill Lee. Veterans Charlie Root and Clay Bryant will be on deck if needed.

From five rookies, Grimm will have to pick two to fill his required nine-man mound staff.
Outstanding of these are two

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS PICK YANKS, GIANTS

NEW YORK, April 5.—The New York Yankees and New York Giants will clash again in the world series this year, according to predictions on the outcome of the 1937 pennant race made today by 16 major league managers.

Seven American league managers in a United Press poll, picked the Yankees to finish first in their league, while one named Detroit. The Giants were picked to win a close race in the National league. Three National pilots named the Pittsburgh Pirates and one each picked the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals.

Bill Terry, Giant manager, refused to vote on the grounds that "it is not my policy to make predictions."

Behind the Yankees the American league managers named Detroit, Cleveland, Washington, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis and Philadelphia. The National league finish was predicted as follows: New York, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

S. A. TRACKMEN AT SAN DIEGO

Doing double duty in an effort to catch up in a dual-meet schedule "rained out" earlier in the season, Santa Ana's Saints go to San Diego tomorrow and oppose Harbor High of the No. 2 San Diego school, at Poly field Friday. Both are regular Coast league tracksters.

Coach Reece Greene will take 22 athletes to the Hilliers stadium, bunching all his best athletes in the "A" division because San Diego sponsors no "B" squad. The Santa Anas leave by bus at 10 a. m.

Considerably weaker than usual, San Diego is no better than an even bet to outpoint the Saints, augmented by Wayne Piper, Bill Hemmen, Dwight Nott and Lawrence Dresser of Greene's undefeated "B" squad. "Bud" Hamaker, vaulter and hurdler, who missed last Friday's Alhambra meet because of illness, also will compete.

San Diego's outstanding athletes are John Bivener, lanky hurdler who was a double victor while San Diego was beating Harbor last week, 70-43; "Bud" Gatewood, dusky 440 runner; Ed Becker, 48-foot shot putter; Manley, sprinter and 216 broad jumper, and Vogt, 12-foot vaulter. Santa Ana's best places but may take enough seconds and thirds to carry the meet into the relay. With Piper and Duffy in the baton event, the Saints figure to win it.

Saints entries:
100—Adams, Piper, Nott, 220—Adams, Duffy, H. Elliott, 440—Johnson, W. Elliott, 880—J. Elliott, Wagner, Miller, Whitney, Bate, Newton; High hurdles—Hamaker, H. Elliott; Low hurdles—Nott, Barron, Hemmen; Relay—Adams, Nott, Duffy, Piper; Pole vault—Hamaker, Dresser, Tedrow; Shot put—Patterson, Musick; Broad jump—Nott, Barron, Piper; High jump—Hemmen, Tedrow, Johnson; Discus—Patterson, Musick.

Byron Nelson, 30-1 Shot, Crashes Masters' Tourney

BY STUART CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5.—Byron Nelson, who started life as a railroad accountant's assistant, was the Augusta National golf champion today, the first surprise winner in the four-year history of the tourney.

The smiling blond was a 30 to 1 shot in the betting but outscored a brilliant field to register the upset with 283, one stroke from the record. He trailed Ralph Guldahl by three strokes when the third round was complete, but held his shots in line in the final to win by two strokes while Guldahl, along with the home pro, Ed Dudley, and Harry Cooper, were missing par.

Guldahl had a final 76 for 285, while Dudley's 74 was giving him a 286. Harry Cooper had 74 for 287.

Nelson's prize money for first place was $1500, while Guldahl drew $800, and Dudley $600.

Nelson, attached to the Reading (Pa.) Country club, is an affable gent. He doesn't have much to say unless the conversation is about golf.

He went to high school in Fort Worth, but had to quit and go to work.

"I don't drink and I don't smoke. I don't quarrel with anyone who does, but I don't care for them. Drinking especially is repulsive and I actually haven't ever touched a drop in my life. Maybe it's a good thing right now, because I sure feel like celebrat-ing," he said.

Bob Jones scored a 77 in his final round for an aggregate of 303, placing in a three-way tie for 19th place. Jones had plenty of illustrious company. Former British and U. S. Open champion Gene Sarazen finished with 73-300.

'Powerful Patricia' Dean On Trail Of McLeMure, Too

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PINEHURST, N. C., April 5.—I am grateful that I was in Pinehurst, and not Tampa, when the bloody battle was waged between the St. Louis Cardinals under the leadership of General "Dizzy" Dean, and the sports writers, under the command of Field Marshal Jack Milroy.

For had I been there in the hotel during the shooting the chances are that I would have been left draped over a potted palm, with no one more efficient than the bell captain or the cigar stand girl to dress my wounds, take down my beat me lustily on the profile.

As for myself, I wouldn't have known whom to hit. The only way I could have solved the problem, I guess, would have been to punch my own self twice—once for being a sports writer, and once for being a ball player. That meant three people hitting me, and that's exactly three too many. Three—what?—there have been a fourth party swinging on me, because it is no secret that Mrs. Patricia Dean, wife of the ditty one, would like to have my auburn scalp dangling from her belt, and my pelt stretched out as a rug in her Bradenton home.

When I went to Sarasota this winter to report the baseball players' golf tournament, I was warned to watch my step when I saw Mrs. Dean—that she was angry because of a story I had written about Dizzy and Paul, and aimed to swat me over the head with her umbrella when she saw me. I saw her once or twice—she followed Dizzy's play, but it was at a distance, because I cautiously stayed in the middle of the fairway, which is a spot people who follow Dizzy at golf seldom tread.

If the subject of the battle I read was accurate, future historians won't have any trouble deciding who won it. Milroy, it seems, came out of the fray not only with a clean-cut right eye, but with the same sort of triumph.

When fifteen or sixteen of the baseball players' golf tournament, I was warned to watch my step when I saw Mrs. Dean—that she was angry because of a story I had written about Dizzy and Paul, and aimed to swat me over the head with her umbrella when she saw me. I saw her once or twice—she followed Dizzy's play, but it was at a distance, because I cautiously stayed in the middle of the fairway, which is a spot people who follow Dizzy at golf seldom tread.

It was a triumph of mind over matter."

Rodgers Raps Santa Ana For Holding Up Reboin Release

In all the years he has run roughshod over National Night league opposition. Manager Joe Rodgers of the Huntington Beach Oilers has never gone round-and-round with the powerful Santa Ana ball club over "business policies."

But that time apparently has arrived. A good old-fashioned feud was in the making today between Rodgers, never much of a pacifist, and Ray (Doc) Smith, Santa Ana's red-headed head man who has never run away from a fight either.

Alvin Reboin, one of the most modest and retiring of ball players, was the unhappy central figure in a verbal whirlpool that "broke" in Huntington Beach.

Reboin belongs to Santa Ana, played with the Stars through the entire 1936 campaign. Last fall he got a job coaching football at Huntington Beach high school.
Immediately pressure was brought to bear on him to play softball with the champion Oilers. Reboin asked the Stars for his release, and Smith refused it unless "Huntington Beach gave Santa Ana in exchange a player of approximate value."

That, Rodgers refuses to do. He claims he can force Santa Ana to give him the hard-hitting outfielder, leading hitter of the National division in '35. He was quoted as follows:

"Santa Ana's management has black eye enough without attempting to pull another rotten deal.
Everybody remembers how they routed Olive out of Reboin. The Stars traded Leavitt Daley to Olive for Reboin. Under terms of the agreement, Reboin was immediately transferred to Santa Ana, but Daley was to finish out the season with the Stars. Instead of carrying out their contract, the Stars declared Daley a 'free agent' at the end of the season and allowed him to join up with Anaheim."

Reboin was quoted as stating he will "sit out" the season rather than play for any club but Huntington Beach.

Manager Smith of Santa Ana says he will, too, unless Santa

Ana gets something for Reboin.

"Rodgers is just beating around the bush," said Smith. "Reboin is Santa Ana property. No league in the world would recognize Huntington Beach's claim to him until we formally release Reboin.
That we'll never do until we get something for him."

Orange's Cubs, sensation of the National division last year, begin practice tonight at the city park diamond under the guidance of Manager "Memphy" Hill.

"We'll welcome all candidates," says Hill, who will have at his command virtually the entire Orange county, work out tonight and Manager Ernie Lagler urges all unattached players who are anxious to try out to report at 7 o'clock.

cided whether to enter the Na-

STRONGBERG IS FOIL FOR NEW MAT VILLAIN

TONIGHT'S CARD
King Kong Kox vs. Rudy Strongberg, best two out of three falls, one hour.

Tiny Roebuck vs. "Boo!"
Martin, one hour.
Hans Schultz vs. Capt. Myron Cox, one fall, 30 minutes.
Young Stecher vs. Iron Mike
Works, one fall, 30 minutes.

One of matdom's most arrogant and eccentric characters, King Kong Kox, shoves his bullet-like head through the hemp of the Orange County Athletic club again tonight to wage a three-fall west-ling match with Germany's No. 2
heavyweight, Rudy Strongberg.

A ruthless, devil-may-care fellow, King Kong starts his antics from the first bell and never stops.
He's a fair wrestler and tougher than nails. Punishment rolls off him like water off a duck's back.
After beating Capt. Myron Cox last week Kox sustained a deep wound in his shoulder blade from an enraged fan, caused by a sharp enpick like weapon.

Kox ran a dozen would-be an-noyers out of his dressing room and bodily tossed out the man he saw attacked him, and then laughed as the club's physician cared for the painful wound.

A new referee, "Boo!" Martin, wrestler-referee from New Orleans, will handle the match. Incidentally Martin engages "Tiny" Roebuck in the first three-fall match to be staged prior to intermission.

Capt. Myron Cox, seeking a rematch with Kox, draws Hans Schultz in the special while the opener brings back Iron Mike Works and Young Stecher in a rematch. They staged a wild bout last week, Stecher winning. Works had previously wrestled Bob Coleman and claimed he was too tired to show his best against Stecher.
The first bout is billed for 8:30.

COAST LEAGUE CLUBS DIVIDE TWIN BILLS

(By United Press)

Opening skirmishes of the Pacific Coast league's baseball campaign indicate that the eight clubs are more closely matched than is usual.

The 12 games played were close hard-fought battles, and most of them were decided in late innings
by one or two runs.

Pitching was not up to mid-season par, but Ed Stutz of the San Francisco Seals and Fay Thomas, Los Angeles, turned in shutout performances and the latter gave only three hits.

No team was able to make a clean sweep of the three-game series which opened

WITH HOMER CANFIELD

Clark Gable Heads All-Star Cast

The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here—

By HOMER CANFIELD

Hollywood, April 5.—SEEMINGLY INSPIRED BY its tremendous success to date, the Lux Radio Theater presents a play and cast of stars tonight that should establish some sort of a new high in radio.

The play is the tenderly tragic "Farewell to Arms"; the stars, Clark Gable, Josephine Hutchinson, Adolphe Menjou, Jack LaRue, Doris Lloyd and Lionel Belmore.

Gable plays the part of Lt. Frederic Henry, an American in the Italian ambulance corps; Miss Hutchinson will be Nurse Catherine Barkley; Menjou, Major Rinaldi, the same part he played in the screen production of "Farewell to Arms."

Frank Borsage, director, who won an Academy Award for his work in filming the Ernest Hemingway story, will be interviewed by Cecil B. DeMille during the broadcast. Courtney Riley Cooper, author and criminologist, will also submit to an interview. (KNX, 6)

I SUPPOSE a good many of you were wondering what happened to Ted Malone this morning. Although local CBS bigwigs were a little vague in explanation, I managed to gather that:

Ted's sponsorship came to a natural close as so many do. That his hour was bought by Edwin C. Hill's new sponsor. That, although Hill doesn't come to the west coast daylight saving time goes into effect (May 3), Malone found himself without fifteen minutes to continue as a sustaining feature.

So, until a suitable time or sponsor is found, I've a hunch that the pleasant-voiced Mr. Malone is enjoying a well earned vacation from things radio.

And I heartily join with you in wishing him a speedy return to the air.

ALTHOUGH THE sponsor wanted Bill Goodwin for the new Burns & Allen NBC series, Ken Carpenter will get the job. It seems that Carmel had Bill contract-bound.

Alfred Wallenstein, whose excellent music has found an attentive audience on Mutual, becomes permanent conductor of the Voice of Firestone series. Richard Crooks is the soloist tonight. (KFI, 8:30)

Wallenstein has an interesting background. When but 15 years old, he toured South America with the great dancer, Anna Pavlova. On his return to the United States he played for Alfred Hertz, who immediately offered him a job with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra on the condition that he put on long pants.

FRED ALLEN is again threatening to desert radio. But then he does that every year at this time. After a few weeks of summer laziness, he always signs again for the fall.

But this year there will be no vacation for the nasal-voiced funnyman. Contracted to write as well as act for the Hollywood movie makers, he may not find time to recuperate from this winter's siege. You see, Allen writes every bit of material used on his Wednesday night airing, which is something unique in radio's annals. When the end of his contract rolls around he's always worn to a bunch of lumbled nerves and a threshold sense of humor.

However, he's conceding that if he wants to remain in pictures, radio will help a great deal. Which is a good sign.

FLOODED AREA CLEANS HOUSE

CAIRO, IL. (UP)—Women clad in galoshes and armed with scrub brushes and brooms have taken over flood-ravaged towns along the Ohio River for a spring house-cleaning which this year isn't optional.

From Shawneetown, just below the confluence of the Ohio and Wabash rivers, to New Madrid, Mo., at the tip of the Birds-Point spillway, riparian communities are coated with gray-brown mire.

The recent floods left behind them a problem for housewives. In Mounds City, Ill., houses lay upturned with their windows now skylights. Some were crowded to gether in grotesque heaps without regard for fence or road.

Garages and lighter homes were swept to new locations. A cleaning and pressing shop floated away to settle near the shipyards. The owner intends to let it remain there because he deems it "a much better location."

Furniture in Ruins
As the spring cleaning began huge junk piles formed throughout the towns. The larger part of the furniture must be scrapped and rubbish piled in backyards and streets included tables and chairs which became unglued or warped.

Carpets and mattresses were dried on fences, front porches or wrecked pianos. Many of the rugs are to be sold as rags.

Inside the homes wallpaper hung in shreds, floors had buckled beneath the mud and in some cases entrances and exits were effected through broken window panes. One former resident of Mounds City carried his wife in to see the ruins of her home. He carried her out again when she fainted.

Mounds City was left with only four pianos in the town intact. At the Congregational church a piano circulated into another room, bumped along the ceiling and came to rest on the pews. Yet some members declare that hymnals opened to the last song sung at the Sunday School service remained open at the same page and dry.

Hen Coops on Houses
One man told of building chicken pens on top of houses where hens encckled defiantly until the waters went down.

Another, told that he must evacuate his home quickly, rushed to the kitchen and lifted a bucket of coal to the stove. When he returned after the flood subsided the bucket had floated into the bathroom and settled in the tub.

When housecleaning time began the city hadn't gotten around to clearing the streets. An oil tank was seen lodged in a tree-top in the residential area. An open umbrella filled with mud hung from a fence.

And on the steps of a church lay an empty whisky bottle.

ROBIN PREFERS TO BE NEAR MAN

BY PAUL DIX

United Press Staff Correspondent
ST. LOUIS, (UP)—It isn't temperature alone that determines the residence of the robin, according to Donald M. Hettler, president of the St. Louis Birds club and recognized authority on birds, but the availability of food as well.

Braving the last onslaughts of winter, the robin paces the advance of spring. It makes an appearance earlier in the interior of the continent than on the East coast because the interior becomes warm first. But it is on the West coast nearly all winter long.

The robin's average temperature of migration is 35 degrees Fahrenheit, and it starts an exodus at the first signs of nature's resurrection because at that time the food that makes up the bird's diet is most plentiful.

The robin eats small berries, but its general diet consists of 58 per cent vegetable matter and 42 per cent insect matter. It eats 41 per cent more than its own weight in a 12-hour day, and sometimes works overtime.

The bird eats on the average of 68 worms every day. If man ate in proportion to the robin, he would consume 70 pounds of meat and from five to six gallons of water daily.

The robin in the interior of the continent makes its winter home as far north as southern Missouri and south into Mexico. It starts north with the first south wind, crosses the Ohio River and sweeps up into northern Missouri and southern Iowa just in time for the spring opening in those points.

As the weather warms up, the robin doubles speed to southern Canada. They range as far north as the Arctic Circle in the summer. Flocks which remain in Mississippi for the winter may go no farther north than Iowa, but those which winter in Kentucky, may summer in Alaska.

They fly at an average speed of 18 miles a day, but those robins summering in Alaska and points north often step up their speed to 35 miles a day.

Despite its migratory habits, the robin is one of the few birds that can live in proximity to man. It even prefers to build a nest close to human habitation.

British Planes Returning to 'Floating Airport'

This scene shows not the vast expanse of a landing field, as you might suppose, but the deck of a British aircraft carrier in midocean, with five airplanes winging homeward to their floating base. Notice the "fences" strung across the deck which check the speed of a landing plane. White lines divide the deck into runways.

May Be Toting "Shots," But Not of Lead

City police today suspected that the man whom Mrs. Frank League of 820 West Third street reported was wearing a six-shooter on his hip, was wearing a bottle of liquor in his back pocket.

Mrs. League explained that the man, five feet, 10 inches tall, of ruddy complexion, blond hair and broken nose, had visited the league home three times recently with the suggestion that League accept a drink. "He frequents the elderly man's club on Walnut street and Birch park, and I think he's carrying a gun in his right back pocket," she told Officer Hunter Leach. "He said it's very easy to make money in Santa Ana." An investigation is under way.

In the last letter, Frewert enclosed two checks, totaling $203.13, and advised that his son cash them. But the younger Frewert is unable to cash them because they are unendorsed.

REPORTS HEARD
BY RED CROSS
IN SESSION HERE

Ranging from a final report that the Santa Ana chapter, American Red Cross, had more than doubled its quota in the recent flood disaster drive, to activities in connection with a Good Will luncheon, a wide variety of business today was revealed as having been handled at the regular session of the organization's executive committee meeting.

With Dr. John Wehrly, chapter chairman, in charge, the session was held in the local headquarters at 624 North Main street.

Workers reported an additional $92.25 in flood relief contributions had been received and sent to national headquarters, making a total of $10,977.17 contributed by the chapter. The quota was $5,000.00.

The disaster relief preparedness dinner in which all four chapters in the county will unite, scheduled for May 21, has been postponed at the suggestion of A. L. Schafer, manager of the Pacific area.

Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange County Council, and acting home service chairman for the Santa Ana chapter, reported two service cases and three ex-service cases, had been handled.

The Santa Ana chapter is uniting with the other chapters in the county in the Junior Red Cross Good Will luncheon to be held in the Orange Woman's club May 15, when ambassadors from all schools enrolled, will celebrate Good Will Day, which is May 15, Miss Hazel Bemis, chairman of the Junior Red Cross here reported on plans.

The chapter voted to send Jess Haxton, life saving examiner, to the National First Aid and Aquatic school.

Harry Edwards, chairman first aid, recommended appointment of Clem Knox and Truscott Lindsey, as first aid instructors, both having completed special training under Dr. James Farrage.

Dr. James Farrage, John Carthe completed the instruction of a standard class at Westminster, and a class taught by Dr. Farrage in the Food Machinery Company, Santa Ana was finished. James McWilliams is instructing an adult education class, Harvey Emley, instructor in the George Washington school, Garden Grove, is teaching first aid to eighth grade pupils. Dr. Paul Esslinger also has a class at San Juan Capistrano.

Edwards reported other classes will be organized soon.

The two classes taught in the adult education department by Miss Gertrude Schroeder, an authorized Red Cross instructor, are well attended. Mrs. Warren reported.

With the help of Mrs. Esther Chabourn, national field representative, the branch at San Juan Capistrano was reorganized. G. P. Evans is chairman in San Juan Capistrano.

Visitor Recalls Santa Ana As "Cabin Station"

William J. Sears, veteran Beaumont rancher, and formerly a resident of Santa Ana returned here recently to visit his two sisters, Mrs. Allie Ward and Mrs. Olive House. During his visit he attempted to locate the first house he knew in Santa Ana and failed.

"When I first knew Santa Ana," he said, "its only building was a small cabin surrounded by acacia trees and was used as a way-station on the road between Los Angeles and San Diego."

Sears was brought to what is now Orange county in 1859. The family settled here and lived for many years. Following separation of Orange county from Los Angeles, Sears and his family moved into the village of Santa Ana and remained here for many years.

Sears and his wife, whom he married while living in Santa Ana, and their son, Harold, moved to Beaumont and have lived there ever since.

Plan Drive
On Glaring
Headlights

Most costly and annoying menace of night driving—glaring headlights—will be reduced on Orange county highways from 75 to 90 per cent within six months, according to Capt. H. C. Meehan of the Orange county California highway patrol today.

According to Ray Ingels, director of the state motor vehicle department, a state-wide inspection of all motor vehicles will be made soon.

Recent tests by the Sacramento safety council, where 2803 cars were tested, showed that approximately 54 per cent had faulty lights, Captain Meehan said.

"Official inspection of all cars twice a year by the state," Director Ingels said, "would correct from 75 to 90 per cent of these faulty lights, and those who drive at night would be able to do so with much less annoyance and with a far greater degree of safety."

In Rome on the banks of the Tiber, So many years ago; There lived a man known far and wide, For banquets he would throw.

Some Thousand guests would come at once, Each one he'd personally know, He'd greet them with a Latin word, Like 'ave' and not 'hello.

Of course this was in days B. C. When all spoke naught but Latin. To live right you had to speak that tongue, And wear a robe of satin.

Of silver he was never shy, Locking doors was quite unknown, For since his guests no pockets had, They left his silver alone.

SPEED SHIP TO BE DISPLAYED HERE

Left is a photograph of Lockheed-12 airplane, owned by the Haliburton Oil Well Cementing Company and used by Earl Haliburton, owner of the company, to fly from Los Angeles to his office in Duncan, Okla., and to his mine in Honduras.

At right is Dale Decker, chairman of the Aviation Division of the chamber of commerce, and William Hottle, pilot of the plane, and former Santa Ana aviator. They posed after Hottle had completed arrangements to show the airplane here during the First Annual Air Show sponsored by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

PLANE, ON VISIT HERE, SHOWS
HOW MAN CONQUERS WILDERNESS

Earl Haliburton, one of the Haliburton Oil Well Cementing Company, Duncan, Okla., will have his new Lockheed-12, twin motored airplane on display here June 20 at the first annual air show to be sponsored by the Aviation Division of the Young Business Men's Department of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

William Hottle, pilot for Haliburton has set an enviable speed record on a flight from the Haliburton mine to Duncan. Haliburton accepted delivery of the plane less than three weeks ago and immediately left for a trip to his mining property which is located on top of a mountain, at an elevation of 3,800 feet above Tegucigalpa, the nearest city.

On the return trip, Haliburton and Hottle timed the ship from Guatemala and made the journey to Duncan, a distance of 2,250 miles, in nine hours and 55 minutes, including a stop at Brownsville, Tex.

Not only does Haliburton use his plane to visit the mine, he also has a Ford tri-motored ship that he uses in transporting the freight from Tegucigalpa to the mine. This ship makes the same trip in 30 minutes that required seven weeks for the tractor that was used in building the airport at the mine.

While the ship is a sister ship to that of Miss Earhart it has a cruising speed of 220 miles per hour, 30 miles faster than Miss Earhart's plane, Miss Earhart had her's remodeled to allow a larger fuselage with a greater gasoline-carrying capacity and thus reduced the ship's speed.

"Millionaire"
Tramp Tells
Yarn Of Woe

BY MALCOLM BOSTWICK

L. A. LeClair, 63 years old, known throughout the country as "the millionaire tramp" in 1913, not because he had a million dollars, but because he spent his money like a millionaire's spendthrift son, is going to Orange county hospital Tuesday for an operation.

LeClair, who admits he likes his liquor too well, has written and had published seven magazine stories, one of which, he says, brought $1,000. Now he's writing a book—has worked on it three years—entitled "Twenty Years Marking Time with Fate." It tells of two trips around the world, gold mining in Death Valley, Black canyon, Box canyon (midway between Phoenix and Prescott, Ariz.), and the Colorado basin.

Admits "Everything"

LeClair, who has been arrested in Orange county several times, because liquor has a strong appeal for him, visited William Randolph Hearst and other notables in Los Angeles when he arrived there wearing a straw hat in 1913. He "admitted" advertising Southern California as a "summer and winter resort" by wearing the hat.

LeClair, whose pen name is Lou Light, formerly lived in Anaheim. Now he lives at 7141-2 East Pine, Santa Ana. He has been a representative of the American Federation of Labor and garment workers union in his hey-day, and has fought against child labor and prison production for many years.

On March 28, LeClair was arrested on a burglary charge. The charge was "all wet," it was decreed. He wasn't guilty of anything more than being intoxicated, and officers admitted it.

Well It's Gone!

LeClair is a graduate of Wisconsin State Normal at Oshkosh, and of Wisconsin university, Madison. "But I spent all of my money gambling and entertaining the feminine sex," LeClair said.

LeClair and his partner, "Smoky" netted $17,560 in six minutes in Death Valley a few years ago, when they struck a rich pocket of gold, after hunting the deposit for six months. "But there isn't anything left now," the "tramp" related. "Maybe my book, when it is completed, will fix me up financially."

Observations have shown that the earth is a globe, flattened at the poles, 25,000 miles in circumference at the equator, and 8000 miles in diameter.

Grading of Fruit

Enforcement of standardization laws and the 7-1-2 to 1 navel orange test will be the topic of R. J. McFadden.

H. W. Pierce, manager of the Anaheim Co-operative Orange Growers association of Anaheim, will discuss Modern Methods of Grading Fruit. Sometime ago, Pierce's son developed a new machine which will revolutionize the grading of citrus fruits.

An open discussion following the talks will be welcomed. J. A. Baker, president of the center, said.

A potluck dinner will start the session, and all recent developments in activities of both poultrymen and growers of field crops, will be discussed.

TOWNSEND CLUBS

Club No. 2 will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street.

Club No. 8 will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lincoln school. A bean guessing contest will be one of the feature attractions of the program.

W.R.C. HEAD SPEAKS

Members of the local organization were notified today that the national president of the W.R.C. will speak over the Columbia network April 11, Army day, at 1:30 p.m., Pacific standard time.

"INDIANS" ON TREK

Friendly Indians from the First Presbyterian church Saturday made their annual snow-trip to Camp Baldy under the direction of Herman Thomas and Kenneth Nissley.

"OUTRAGED"

A new battle of stamps has arisen in Washington, this time over the "demotion" of Gen. Robert E. Lee on the new 4-cent army stamp showing the Confederate commander and Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson. Only two stars of a Civil War lieutenant general, instead of three of a full-fledged general, appear on Lee's collar, as this picture of a part of the new stamp reveals. It's a rank outrage, says admirers of Lee, to "break" the great general on a stamp that's supposed to honor him.

An attempt to sell royalties from a tract in the Huntington Beach tideland oil fields was stopped by the Securities Exchange Commission today, according to word received by The Register from Washington, D. C.

An offering of securities based on royalties accruing from oil drawn from the "Windsor-Culbertson No. 1 Farm," not to exceed $100,000, filed by L. D. Greenfield company, of New York City, was suspended by the commission because of an inaccuracy in the brief.

This decision, according to C. Roy Smith, in charge of the case for the commission, will not effect the commercial development of the tract.

Cite "Inaccuracy"

"It was an effort on the part of the land-owner to dispose of royalty rights," Smith stated, "The offering sheet, as filed by the New York company, stated there were approximately 200 wells producing from the Windsor-Culbertson tract, which was inaccurate, the commission held.

"Because of the nature of the wells," Mr. Smith stated, "it is impossible to determine the exact number on the farm, but 85 is a close figure."

Ramirez Is Local Jaycee Delegate

John Ramirez, president of the Santa Ana Junior college chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, national Jaycee honor society, left yesterday for Little Rock, Ark., where he will represent the local junior college at the national convention.

Ramirez was selected by the Alpha Beta chapter to represent the college at the three-day convocation, starting Wednesday, and concluding Friday.

The convention will be attended by delegates from junior colleges in all parts of the country.

Ramirez has not only been active in Phi Theta Kappa work as president, but is a member of four other honor societies. They are, Beta Gamma, extra-curricular society of which he is president; American Association of Engineers, and Alpha Mu Gamma, foreign language society. He was Don of the fiesta last year, as well as a member of Los Gauchos, men's service club.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in Riverside for Mrs. Harriet Ella Lane, mother of Mrs. R. A. Tiernan of Santa Ana, who died Saturday at the Glendale sanitarium, in Glendale. Services will be held in Simon's mortuary, with private entombment in Evergreen cemetery mausoleum, Riverside.

In addition to Mrs. Tiernan, Mrs. Lane is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Warren V. Harris, Hollywood and Mrs. Leila Braunschweiger Hasting, of Idyllwild.

Ted Shawn Dancers Are Musical Arts Guests At Supper Party

With interest fanned by the remarkable dance program of the evening in high school auditorium, members and guests of Musical Arts club almost taxed the capacity of the big dining room at Danigers Friday night, at the supper following the Ted Shawn Dance Ensemble program in high school auditorium.

These gay after-concert suppers have struck the popular fancy, and in each case since they were launched, the artist of the evening has remained to be introduced as guest of honor. Last evening was no exception, and not only were supper guests privileged to meet Ted Shawn himself, probably the greatest man in his field that this country has produced, but they also met the youths of his ensemble and his accompanist, Jess Meeker.

Mary Batten Steffenson (Mrs. J. Leslie Steffenson), musical arts president, presided over introductions, including that of L. E. Behrmer, Los Angeles Impresario, who gave one of his delightful talks. There was music as well with Ruth Armstrong at the piano, and Beulah Parker as leader. Prominent among songs was "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," in compliment to the dance ensemble which had made it one of the beautiful dances of the evening program.

It was interesting to those talking with young men of the ensemble, to hear details of their training under Shawn, their work in designing and making the costumes used in dances, designing of stage settings, and all the myriad details of staging such a spectacle as they present. This particular group has been working with Shawn for four years, at the training school in Lee, Mass. It comprised Messrs. Burton Mumaw, Frank Overlies, Wilbur McCormack, Dennis Sanders, Fred Hearn, Foster Fitz-Simons, Frank Delmar and Horace Jones.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

FOR many centuries, Ostend, picturesque seaport and pleasure resort on the coast of Belgium, was the helpless buffer between nations struggling for a shelter on the North Sea. It was the last stronghold of the Dutch in the 16th century. Spain held it for a while, then came France. In 1918, when Germany forced her way to the coast, in the World War, the British loaded the old warship Vindictive with cement and sank her in the mouth of the harbor. In this way the port of Ostend was bottled up during the war. Until today a quiet fishing and resort center, Ostend again may become a thriving modern port. Its harbor is to be improved, a hydroplane base built, and a bid entered to make Ostend the western terminus of the proposed transcontinental highway to Istanbul, Turkey. An airview of the port appears on an airmail stamp issued by Belgium in 1930.

MURDER TRIAL NEARING JURY

The Esquivel murder case was expected to reach the jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court late this afternoon, as attorneys for prosecution and defense thundered their argument at the 12 men and women who hold the life of Jesus Esquivel in their hands.

Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis demanded that this life of Esquivel be given for the life of Salvador Lopez, whom Esquivel shot fatally in a Santa Ana alleyway nearly eight years ago.

Davis proclaimed to the jury that Esquivel killed Lopez deliberately and with premeditation and malice, because he coveted the wife of Lopez. He demanded that Esquivel be found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Defense Attorney N. D. Meyer, answering Davis's argument, bitterly denied that Esquivel was aggressor in the encounter and accused the prosecutor of "over enthusiasm" in presenting theories to the jury. He declared there were no facts in the case to support the charge of a domestic triangle, and contended that Lopez actually had fired first upon Esquivel.

Both attorneys were at a high pitch of emotion as they hurled their arguments at the jury box. They spoke throughout the morning session of court.

District Attorney W. F. Menton was scheduled to close argument for the state this afternoon. Then, after the court had delivered instructions to the jurors, the fate of the defendant would be placed in their hands.

STUDIO PAINTERS TO STAGE STRIKE

NEW YORK, April 5.—(UP)—Lawrence Lindof, president of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators, declared today that a strike would be called "not later than next Monday" by 1800 to 2000 Hollywood studio technicians affiliated with his organization.

Purpose of the strike, he said, would be to try to force the producers to recognize the brotherhood as the organization of all the motion picture employees affiliated with it.

Court Notes

George McMath, convicted of passing a fraudulent check, and with prior conviction of felony, today was sentenced by Superior Judge H. G. Ames to Folsom for a term of from one to 14 years. The check had been passed to Harold L. Ball at Brea.

An application on behalf of Sarah Ann Newcomb, of Newport Beach, to stay execution of a title decree forfeiting her title to 19 acres of harbor bottom unless she paid $708 in back taxes, was dropped from the calendar in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court today, when no one appeared to represent the petitioner. The city had previously served notice that unless the taxes were paid within ten days, as required by a supreme court order, steps would be taken to assert the city's title to the tract. A representative of Mrs. Newcomb then asked superior court to hold up the proceedings until Mrs. Newcomb could meet the conditions imposed, her attorney having refused to act in the case.

W. L. Mayhew and his wife, Alma, today filed suit in superior court against S. H. Kress and Company, asking $11,000 damages on account of an injury allegedly received by Mrs. Mayhew in an accidental fall while she was in the Kress store in Santa Ana April 8, 1936.

Birdena Walters was plaintiff today in a suit for $10,259 damages, filed today in superior court against T. W. Taylor. The action is based upon a traffic crash on West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, March 20.

LAWYERS PICK TABOR JURORS

Expected to occupy five weeks time, the trial of E. R. Tabor, charged with arson in connection with the burning of his apartment house at Huntington Beach in 1932, was getting under way today in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

Selection of a jury commenced late this morning, after the jury panel was released from another criminal case in another department. With portions of the panel occupied in two other departments, it was expected that a special venire would be required before the Tabor jury could be completed.

It is Tabor's second trial. He was convicted at his first trial, but appealed and won a new trial from the higher court. The second trial was postponed several times because of Tabor's claim of illness. Physicians were appointed by the court to examine him, and reported that he was physically fit to appear in court.

Then he appeared without an attorney, and another delay was forced. The court appointed Milburn G. Harvey, of Santa Ana, to the defense. Today the case finally got going.

Tabor was charged with the offense of arson by two men, Henry Rose and John Eli, were convicted and sent to San Quentin for the offense, one of them later writing the district attorney and implicating Tabor and Jess Sibley, tenant of the building.

When both Tabor and Sibley were convicted, Sibley asked probation and was granted it, on condition that he serve six months in jail. But Tabor appealed and upset the conviction in his case.

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Golden Text was from Job: "Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will he Al-mighty regard it."

Among the Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon were these verses from the first epistle general of John: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. . . . In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother. For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the statements: "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing and teaching. . . . Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."

WOOSTER PLANS TO ORGANIZE ALL POETS IN ORANGE COUNTY

Organization of poets in Orange county was under way today under supervision of Ernest S. Wooster, 216 East Washington street.

Wooster declared every poet in the county is expected to be enrolled in the group, and that as soon as sufficient interest is aroused, a meeting will be called to outline details of the plan. Wooster said enrollment had been started.

Wooster said one of the chief objectives would be to promote greater public interest in the appreciation of poetry and consequently in the reading of it, and secondly, to stimulate among members the writing of acceptable verse—acceptable according to the standards of the society and also to publishers.

"Poetry can be made as generally appreciated as painting or music," says Wooster. "While musicians are organized into orchestras and in other ways, and painters have art associations, poets are individuals, or have been. The Society of Orange County poets expects to enroll many as members. Though the start is made in Santa Ana, with the expectation of having members throughout the county, members will be accepted from points outside the county. Separate local chapters may be formed later.

Poets Encouraged
The society expects, as a part of its campaign to popularize poetry to encourage particularly the writing of whimsical, narrative, and humorous verse as well as more serious poems. The saga of Orange county remains yet to be written.

"Membership in the society will be limited to those who are likely to be able to turn out acceptable verse."

"There are talented versemakers in every town and out between the towns. An overwhelming sense of modesty causes many a verse-writer to keep his talent hidden, as though it were a weakness. The society aims at bringing to light these too-modest individuals and to encourage and develop whatever talent they may possess. Professional poets are not barred, either."

Poet's Fair Planned
"Among early enterprises contemplated by the society is publication of a volume of verse by its members. A very loosely organized group in Laguna Beach published 'Laguna Lyrics' and edited by Anthony Anderson, former Art Editor of the L. A. Times several years ago. A well organized society can hope to make its publication a successful event."

KNIFE ATTACK CASE DROPPED

In furtherance of justice and by consent of the victim, charges of assault with deadly weapon, filed against Wirt Houseman, 63, 323 North Artesia, after a recent knife attack, were dismissed today in Santa Ana justice court where a preliminary hearing had been scheduled.

Lester Grove, 37, the victim, had been visiting at the Houseman place and was smoking a cigarette in bed against Houseman's wishes, prior to the attack. Grove was recovered from a wound in the back. Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker asked Justice Kenneth Morrison to dismiss the case.

JAYSEE MUSIC GROUP ON TRIP

San Diego State Teacher's college and the Girl Scouts of Laguna Beach will hear concerts by music students of Santa Ana Junior college today. Leaving the college at 7:30 a. m. in two buses the 70 voice students were to arrive in San Diego for the morning concert at 11 o'clock.

Members of the women's chorus making today's trip include Frances Bassett, Sabra Batchelor, Marjane Baxter, Marjane Belcher, Eleanor Buckles, Jeanette Bodman, Agnes Brady, Pauline Cave, Mary Coffman, June Corry, Helen Fine, Eliza Mae Hoxie, Josephine Keeler, Barbara Langley, Sadie Monroy, Helen Pierce, Virginia Pritchett, Evelyn Richards, Nina June Robertson, Leola Schroeder, Vivian Switzer, Helen Waer, Barbara Warren, Anne Wetherell, Vivian White, Adele Pyatt and Marguerite Monta Pert.

Forty-one members of the men's chorus also made today's tour.

Christian Science

Plan Tax On Rolling Stores at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 5.—Revision of the business license ordinance to include a tax on so-called "rolling stores" is due for consideration at tonight's city council session. The proposed amendment would place a tax of $500 per year on business conducted in the city streets from vehicles. Temporary licenses would cost $25 per day with a ten-day minimum clause.

A large audience is expected to attend the meeting, as the proposed new law has stirred up considerable opposition. The Business Men's Division of the Chamber of Commerce recommended the ordinance and will have representatives at tonight's hearing.

SAILORS' TRIAL OPENED TODAY

Three sailors went on trial before a jury today in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court, charged with criminal attack upon an 18-year-old Long Beach girl, Frances Roosevelt.

The three defendants, Sam J. Leggio, 20, H. J. Reynolds, 23, and John Waller, 23, wore their dark blue uniforms into court today to face the girl who accuses them of a crime that could send them to San Quentin for half a century, were they found guilty.

Miss Roosevelt, who accompanied the sailors on a motor trip from Long Beach to San Bernardino last February 29, charges that they attacked her in Santa Ana canyon.

An additional felony charge of assault by means and force likely to produce great bodily injury was filed against the trio, the girl claiming that she was severely beaten.

After Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe had represented the state in selection of the jury, attorneys Teith Enloe and Roscoe Wilkie appearing for the defense, the proceedings were delayed until Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis, who has charge of the prosecution, could relieve McCabe. Davis was engaged in completing a murder trial today in another department of the court.

Members of the jury are: Helen Smith, Harriet C. Boyd, Charles Barnett, Cora Gatchell, Henry S. Campbell, Eva Hammett, A. B. Coffman, Sara M. Whitfield, Vida E. Pryor, Marie M. Goodson, Sadie E. Dooley and Katherine Northcross.

IMPORTANT TO EVERY PARENT

On Tuesday night, there will be discussed at the Forum for Political and Economic Education, a very important question which should interest every parent. The most important problem every parent has is the honest and intelligent education of his children—the using of the time of the children in such a manner that it will best promote their understanding.

For years the educators have been contending that the study of one subject disciplined the mind and made it supple so that it would be more capable of solving other problems of life. Now the public educators have pretty generally come to the conclusion that this is not the case; that the study of one subject does not strengthen the mind in others.

With this problem facing the parents, the Forum for Political and Economic Education has asked Ray Adkinson, superintendent of the county schools, to select two speakers to discuss this subject from the two points of view. Mr. Adkinson has been fortunate in securing the services of Dr. J. A. Williams, head of the Department of Psychology of the Fullerton Junior College, to discuss one side and Dr. Layman of the Extension Department of the University of California, or Rev. Powers of Buena Park, to oppose.

It would seem that this subject should be of interest to every parent as well as every teacher, and those high school students who are old enough to realize the importance of conservation of their time should also be interested.

These meetings are free and are held at the Junior College building, North Main at Tenth and begin at 8 o'clock.

NEWSPAPERS LOST INFLUENCE?

Since the last political election, it has often been said that the newspapers have lost their influence.

We cannot help but wonder whether the newspapers have lost their influence or have just been reaping what they have been sowing for the last 20 years and whether the present condition is not largely due to their influence.

The majority of papers, especially the metropolitan papers, have been selling envy and hate for the last couple of decades. Now that the fruits of spreading envy and hate are having their natural results, many of these publishers have begun to realize the results and are reversing themselves. Public opinion is not swayed in a month or a year—it takes many years. It is of course much easier to tear down than to build and the newspapers, as well as all other citizens who are interested in the general welfare of society, will need to use their united efforts and all the wisdom and understanding they can gather together, to undo the damage they have done in the past in believing that one man's opinion is as good as another and that those who have not been financially successful have been robbed; that all questions should be decided by the voting majority, such as life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. When the voting majority decides what religion a man has a right to worship, whether he has a right to freedom of act, whether he has a right of free enterprise, they invariably take the liberties of an individual away and become despots. The more they take away, the more they demand.

Newspapers as a whole will have a lot to do to amend the damage they have done in the past.

FIRST MOVE FOR PRICE CONTROL

The announcement by the President to the newspaper men that prices of steel and copper are too high is the first move by the Administration to bring about public opinion that will support his eventual control and regulation of prices.

Some twenty years ago, the people decided to attempt to control the value of money. We have driven real money out of existence in the United States because of the attempt to control its value—its price. Now there is no question but what the results of special privilege and attempt of the people to control one commodity will eventually result in the lack of all free enterprise and the complete domination and control of prices by the Federal Government. The efficiency of private industry that made it possible to have the highest standard of living in all history and which was only retarded because of government meddling, will gradually come to an end. It will be superseded by the inefficiency of the government. The government, it seems does not have enough jobs to hand out and eventually, by regulating wages and prices, will have the final control of all jobs and all free industry and free enterprise will be regulated by the inefficiency of the politicians.

It is only the natural result of the general belief by the educators selected by the voting majority that the total purchasing power is increased by wages, interests and profits; and the President who has publicly declared that "our industrial plant is built." It is only natural that he believes that he should control the expansion of certain lines of industry. No man who has never imposed difficult tasks upon himself, however, has a right to think that he knows enough to tell what lines of industry should be expanded and what lines should not. It is only those who have never imposed difficult tasks upon themselves, but insist upon others doing difficult tasks, who believe they are wise enough to have this almost unlimited power.

There is no question but what the administration eventually intends to regulate prices even in face of the fact that the administration, when in private business, knew so little about value that all of the enterprises he was connected with and entered the management went into bankruptcy.

The New Dealers and the new educators evidently believe that we do not need more equipment; they evidently believe that improved machinery and equipment will not increase the production. It is amazing that the President of the United States believes in using hand labor when the rewards of labor can be greatly increased only by having more efficient plants and tools.

We cannot help but believe that we can produce more corn with a hoe than without a tool; that we can produce more corn with a cultivator and a tractor than without; and that we can produce more corn with more efficient tractors. That is, we can only produce more and live better by having better tools.

But things are different now, according to our college professors and the New Dealers!

ROMANCE AND RECKLESSNESS

Offhand, there would seem to be little relation between marriage and reckless driving—but listen to Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles, state of California:

"Department records show many single men, formerly listed as habitual violators of traffic laws, who became model drivers after they were married. Perhaps the greater responsibility," continues Mr. Ingels, "curbs their reckless tendencies."

Or perhaps there is another reason. With marriage, for instance, a man's driving technic may undergo a decided change. Before, the task of manipulating steering wheel, horn, brake, etc., sometimes is left to one hand, while the other rests affectionately about a companion's neck.

After the ceremony, the man not only has both hands free to operate his car, but he may be assisted by sharp directions from the back seat.

Whatever the explanation, it is pleasant to know that Cupid can be an aid, as well as a detriment, to safe driving.

JUDGE FORMER DEAN OF ROOSEVELT

It is reported that one of the editorials that has caused the most comment around Washington about the Administration's program of changing the Supreme Court is an editorial appearing in the Herald-Tribune of March 31.

It is headed, "Franklin Roosevelt, Esq.—Not LL. B."

In the editorial it quotes W. S. Gilbert as follows:

"The chief critic of the Supreme Court spent three years at the Columbia Law School. His record there was such that the faculty did not feel he had absorbed enough of the fundamentals of law to be entitled to the degree of Bachelor of Laws. (It is an interesting fact in this connection that the Dean of the Columbia Law School at this time was Harlan F. Stone, who now sits on the bench of the Supreme Court.) Upon what meat this our Caesar starved we do not know, but he at least is as cocksure as a sophomore that his knowledge is superior to that of experts."

WHAT IS RUSSIA'S GOVERNMENT?

After reading extracts of Stalin's speech on wreckers and diversionists in Russia and Max Eastman's article in February Harper's on "The End of Socialism in Russia," we cannot but wonder what the government in Russia really should be called.

According to Eastman, Trotsky really represented what is generally regarded as the true ideal of Carl Marx's form of socialism—that all should receive according to his needs and all should contribute according to his ability. Eastman points out in his article that some workers in Russia were receiving eighty times as much as other workers and that the government was paying seven or eight per cent interest rate for the use of money. This, Eastman pointed out, was absolutely contrary to socialism and just a different form of capitalism.

In Stalin's speech before the Committee of the Commune, he said:

"I think it is clear that the present wreckers and diversionists—no matter whether they have masked themselves under the flag of Trotskyism or Bukharinism—have lost their influence in the workers' movement and have become simply an unprincipled and idealless band of professional wreckers, diversionists, spies and murderers."

"It is quite clear these gentlemen should be destroyed, exterminated mercilessly as enemies of the working class and enemies of our country."

"This is clear and does not demand further interpretation."

It is evident from the above that Stalin regards Trotsky's form of socialism as being something that would wreck their progress and their government. The statement also shows the absolute lack of tolerance for any other ideas than those in control of the government. Yet, we have plenty of people in the United States who are picturing the great success of the Russian experiment. We fail to see any success in such tyranny and such intolerance.

From quiet home and first beginning, Out to the undiscovered ends, There's nothing worth the wear of winning But laughter and the love of friends.

NEW YORK CITY—The supreme court's recent labor decision didn't do much of anything except to fish the court itself part way out of an intolerable hole. It certainly did not advance by so much as a foot the administration's contentions that present economic conditions require maximum hours and minimum wage regulation of national application.

The court in the NRA and Guffey decisions, maintained its 50-year-old heresy that labor contracts in mining manufacture, construction and agriculture cannot possibly be "commerce between man and man within a state which affects or concerns more states than one," and so, under the far more ancient doctrine of Gibbons vs. Ogden, be subject to federal regulation. Under present rulings of the court, they can never be so regulated.

They may result in vast migrations of industry to areas of degraded labor and so degrade the labor and paralyze the commerce of many state. They may result in strikes in national industries such as automobiles and steel and so throw millions out of employment in all the states. All this we have seen over and over again. But because the supreme court says they affect commerce between the states only indirectly—no matter how substantially—and that labor in manufacture is not commerce, regulation of them is unconstitutional. That judicial absurdity and blindness to fact, denies to congress an absolutely necessary power to legislate in economic fields.

When the state governments attempted such regulation, labor in manufacture suddenly became commerce, and the court said: "Oh no, any such regulation deprives the worker of his liberty of contract—his liberty to sell his labor at any price he will." What general result did that leave? Neither the state nor federal government has any fundamental power to regulate labor relations—the famous "no man's land," a condition first noticed by this column.

It was a complete stultification. It deprived our dual form of government of an essential element of sovereignty. No other nation on earth from the beginning of history has been so restricted. Yet it has never been disputed that, among the states, the nation and the people, there is no attitude of sovereignty that is not found somewhere. The court was in an impossible position. It had to find that regulatory power somewhere. It could have chosen in the undecided Wagner Labor cases, to find it in the federal government. It could, as it did in shadowy part, find it in the states by the Washington minimum wage decision. It could, as it may yet do, find it on some realistic rule of division in part in both the nation and the states.

It has as yet done none of these things. The railway labor decision hinges on the old reactionary theory that interstate commerce is only something on wheels. It was only because the shophen in that case were railway shophen that the court permitted federal regulation to apply.

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

After supper pop and ma went to the theater, and he was downstairs, waiting for her and she was up in her room making him wait, pop saying to himself out loud, "If there's anything I hate to do, it's wait, and if there's any time I hate to wait it's when I'm already late, yee gods what a sex."

Meaning ladies, and pretty soon ma came down in her new evening rap, saying, "How do I look, Willyum?"

I swore you don't look a day older, pop said. After all this time, it's amazing, he said, and ma said, "How do you mean, I don't look older? You mean this rap actually does make me look old, or it never would of occurred to you to mention such a thing. O dear, I was afraid of that, I knew there should of been more silver in it and less black, well I haven't actually worn it yet, I think perhaps I can exchange it if you really feel that way, Willyum, she said."

What way? pop said. For Peet sake I don't feel any way, I mean what the dooce is going on here, I think your rap is swell, it looks like a million dollars and no cents, yee gods let's get going, he said, and ma said, "Now Willyum don't try to cover up your tracks, I heard what you said, I have plenty of time before me to look like an old woman without starting in prematurely after being warned in so many words. I'm going right back upstairs again and put on my other rap, she said."

If you make one falts step I swear I'll tear up these theater tickets under your still youthful nose, pop said. Horse blanket to blazes, I was referring to the time you were taking, to the clothes you were wearing, he said, and I said, "Sure ma, I heard him before you even came down."

Then why didn't he say so, hurry up, Willyum, you're wasting valuable time and the first thing you know we'll be late, ma said, and pop said, "Give me air, let's go. Wich they did."

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

THE TREATMENT OF PETS

Children get a great deal of pleasure out of their association with their pets. The antics of the kitten, the intelligent friendship of a dog, the close intimacy of the pony call out the finest emotions of childhood. Few children there are who do not love their pets with an abiding affection.

The love and loyalty that the pets give their owners deserves, insists upon a loyal response in case and protection. The child who does not feed and wash his pet is not getting the real association, the real thrill of the association.

The dog of course is the most easily understood, and most appreciated of the lot, but the dog attaches himself to the one who takes care of him. It is not the one who buys him that he loves, but the one who feeds him, brushes and combs him, talks and laughs with him, plays with him, tends him in sickness and in health that pours out his unbounded devotion and affection upon.

It is good to give pets to children if the children are ready to care for them. Otherwise it is bad for the pets and the children alike. Little ones who poke their fingers into the dog's eyes, who drag the cat about by the tail, are going to be hurt. Knowing no better they are going to hurt back and that establishes the wrong relationship at once.

Give the pets to the children when they are ready to take care of them. If a boy wants a dog ask him if he is willing to feed him, and make him understand what that implies in regularity, cleanliness, patience and forethought. Many boys want to own a dog, but many leave the care of them to other people, and that won't do. The animal is dependent upon his owner for his care, and certainly he earns it.

Abuse of animals should not be tolerated. If a child strikes or kicks an animal the pet should be rescued and the child's offense clearly indicated to him. He should be deprived of association with the pet until he shows he can be trusted with his care. If he gets the idea that he can abuse an animal he has formed an unfortunate habit of thought. He is likely to pass along his treatment of the animal to the rest of the world. That will cost him the respect and esteem of his fellows, the pleasant association that others enjoy will be denied him. He will have no friends for the very animals will shun him. Cruelty is one vice that is universally despised. It is unnecessary for any child to be afflicted with it. Training will soon teach him to be kind, to return love for love, service for service in overflowing measure as it is given him.

Children are not the worst offenders when it comes to the mistreatment of pets. What about the people who leave the pet cat behind when they close the house for the vacation months, or go to Europe for a year, or move a long distance away? Imagine the sort of person it must be who leaves his dog homeless and friendless after years of association. Think of the poor creature's distress when they find the house closed, no familiar voice to call them, no food, no drink, nothing but a hostile world to greet them in their grief and loneliness.

Animals are entitled to the best care we can give them once we assume responsibility for them. They become a family obligation, if not a family's beloved member. They stand by us in good times and in bad. We can do no less by them.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1937, The Bell Synd., Inc.)

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

NECESSITY

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The new order is running up against a sterner constitution and a higher supreme court. Its financial policies are being blocked by the law of averages and a natural court order. As the decrees of nature cannot be amended or packed, an alteration and reversal of policy has been started. The period of transition has now begun.

That is the story behind the queer manifestations of the government bond market and the president's new announcement of policy on prices and spending.

It means: The old government policy of spending has been stopped by recovery, a firm hand must be laid on the budget, the debt can be further materially increased, extra-budgetary outlays for housing, farm tenancy, PWA, CCC, etc., must be avoided entirely or kept down to a small experimental basis, old-fashioned arithmetic is again likely to become necessary, if not popular. The Eccles-Morgenthau school of thought has triumphed.

The real extent of the "shift" will be evident when Mr. Roosevelt's relief message goes to congress next week. Then it will be discovered that the government at last is beginning to take this curtailment business seriously.

RESTRICTIONS

The troubles of the government bond market, they say, are mainly due to recovery. No investor outside the booby hatch will keep all his money tied up in governments at 2 plus per cent interest when he can make good commercial loans at two or three times that rate.

Banks are taking some of their money out of governments and putting it into commercial loans. They will continue to do so as long as business continues to improve and good commercial loans can be made.

This situation, however, is largely technical. The field for commercial loans (good ones) is still limited and consequently the amount of government bonds which will be sold for this cause is likewise limited. Also the matter of tax costs involved in transferring from governments will be a brake.

No one doubts that the vast powers held by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau will be sufficient to meet this particular situation, if he only has to meet this situation alone.

It just involves a period of readjustment of interest rates, which may easily work itself out, for the immediate future at least. But if Mr. Morgenthau is forced to find money for farm tenancy, housing, PWA, expanded CCC and such things, in the face of his tax receipts—which are falling below estimates—that is an entirely different thing. His powers are admittedly not sufficient to cope with a lack of faith in the treasury. No power on earth is. This factor is involved to some degree in the present condition of the bond market. That is why the farm tenant bill was maintained in the house committee the other day by an unseen administration hand. Other scuttling will follow.

THE OTHER ONE

Mildest of all gentle grafts is congressional mileage. Unselfish Congressman Mitchell of Tennessee, arose the other day and moved to cut the mileage allowance of each congressman from twenty cents to ten cents to save $75,000 a year. He pointed out it does not cost the legislators even ten cents a mile to get to and from their homes these days. They flew at him, howling such as "why don't you try to cut down something important?" and "have you turned back your extra ten cents?"

The vote showed exactly two favoring the curtailment and seventy-eight against, but you will never know who was the other unselfish congressman beside Mitchell, because congress never takes roll calls on such delicate matters.

The only thing certain is that 434 congressmen will be saying in the next election that they were the other one.
